Benefit account set up for Kerley family

On May 29, Jacqueline Kerley, 24 yrs. died of a massive heart attack, leaving behind two small children. Her death was the result of a heart condition of which she was unaware. The family has set up a fund to benefit the two children and help pay for burial expenses. The family asks that anyone wanting to help, donate only to the account set up at Whitney bank for that purpose. Donations may be dropped off at any Whitney bank.

Nearly a million online nominations were tallied to choose the top 100 names that people consider to be the greatest Americans. Among such legends as Abraham Lincoln and Albert Einstein, one local hero - Kiln native Brett Favre - made the list of all-time greats. A Discovery Channel series, Greatest American, will present the top 25 nominees each Sunday evening through the month of June. On June 26, a grand finale televised live from New York will decide the one name considered to be the greatest American.

Two Bay St. Louis residents and a Waveland teen were arrested and charged with the sale of a controlled substance, (crack cocaine,) directors Waveland Police Chief Jimmy Varnell and Bay St. Louis Chief Frank McNeil report.

Agents arrested Johanna Catalantto, 25, and Henry Farve, 54, both of Bay St. Louis and Solomon Preston Johnson, 17, of Waveland, on June 9, and charged each with one count of sale of a controlled substance, (crack cocaine) in a 'buy bust.' All three were lodged in the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility under a $25,000 bond each, Varnell and McNeil said in a news release.

"All were arrested at a Waveland motel and officers recovered the 'buy money' after the exchange took place."

Controversy over Hancock coaches grows

BY JOHN WATERMAN
Staff Writer

A stalemate on the Hancock County School Board that left the renewal of 29 coaching contracts at Hancock High School up in the air has become a source of increasing concern across the county, spurring parents and students to file a petition in favor of retaining the current high school basketball coach.

The petition drafted by Eric Moran Jr., on behalf of the Hancock High Basketball team, and containing the signatures of forty current and former members, was presented to the school board last week. The petition strongly encouraged the board to reinstate Ladner at the end of June.

"(Coach Ladner) not only teaches the game of basketball, but the game of life and how to embrace it using respect, morals, and a sense of teamwork."

After a motion at the board's June 2 meeting to remove coaches Andy Perniciaro and Michael Ladner from the lineup failed with a 2-2 stale-

MARTY RITTER, 5th grader at Charles B. Murphy Elementary School, signs up for the new Accelerated Reader (AR) Summer Reading Program at the Pearlington Public Library. Funded in part by a grant from the Gulf Coast Community Foundation, students have access to more than 80,000 book quizzes. Research shows that students who participate in summer reading programs maintain and improve their reading skills. By participating in the Hancock County Library System's Summer Reading Program and the AR Summer Reading Program, children will have a fun, positive reading experience. Pictured with Ritter are, from left, Jeanne Brooks, AR Summer Reading Coordinator and Charles B. Murphy School Librarian; Deborah Hill, Pearlington Public Library Branch Manager; and Gussie Crawford, Pearlington Public Library Customer Service Assistant. Parents and children are encouraged to stop by the library and enroll in the Summer Readings Programs to begin a summer of reading excitement.

Authors & Characters @ Your Library

Local author highlights Hancock library program.

Late-blossoming author and Gulfport native Terry Miles is the speaker for the Authors & Characters @ Your Library on Tuesday, June 14 at 11:45 a.m. at the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library.

Captivated by television mysteries Matlock and Murder She Wrote, Terry Miles, a USM Gulf Coast College of Education and Psychology receptionist, is currently celebrating the release of her newest book, Death Has No Appeal.

For the last 28 years, Miles has played characters in the Gulfport Little Theatre, Biloxi Little Theatre, Walter Anderson Players and many more. She is also secretary of the Gulf Coast Writers Association.

Lunch is available at both programs for $5 with advance reservations. To reserve your spot, call 467-5282. More information on this program is available at www.hancocklibraries.info.

Neighborhood Watch, crime prevention meeting at Pearlington Library

Want to learn more about fraud and identity theft? Or are you interested in protecting your home from vandals? A Neighborhood Watch/Crime Prevention meeting to answer these questions and more is set for Thursday, June 30 at 5:00 p.m. at the Pearlington Public Library.

Andy Greenwood,

Hancock County Sheriff's Department TRIAD

Coordinator, will conduct a presentation on how to protect yourself, your neighbors and the elderly from theft, fraud and vandalism.

More information on the program is available by calling Deborah Hill at the Pearlington Public Library at 533-0755 or Jamie Elston at 467-5282.

Clowns, clowns, clowns on display at library

A collection of clowns owned by Terri Favre of Bay St. Louis is currently on display at the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library through the month of June.

Favre has been collecting clowns for more than 25 years. "Each one has its own story," she said, "and there are more than 500 stories."

The collection includes clown figurines, clown pillows, clown dolls, clown needlepoint and much more.

Magic and Bayou Town highlight library summer program

Magic and Bayou Town are the highlights of week two of the Hancock County Library System's 2005 Summer Reading Program, FUNtastic Reading.

Come prepared to be captivated with an unforgettable experience as Mr. Zippy presents a program of magic and illusion on Monday, June 13 at 10:30 a.m. at the Waveland Public Library. Mr. Zippy has performed on WLOX-TV13 and hundreds of parties and church and school functions.

Armed with an arsenal of levitating objects, puppets, cards, coins and fire, Mr. Zippy will brighten up the program.

Come meet the characters of Bayou Town as Alfons the Alligator snatches a hat and romps through the Louisiana bayous and swamps. Welcome to Bayou Town is produced by Bayou Town Productions and local author Cherie Schadler. The living storybook performance is Tuesday, June 14 at 10:30 a.m. at the Pearlington Public Library and Thursday, June 16 at 10:30 a.m. at the Kiln Public Library.

The professional, multi-talented, dynamic master of oriental wizardry Lou Zocchi will delight and enchant the children at a magic show Wednesday, June 15 at 10:30 a.m. at the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library. His flowers from nowhere, his mysterious floating ball and his humorous, fast-paced situations will hold the audience spellbound.

Children can still register by visiting the library branch nearest them, and then visit any branch at least four (4) times during the program, and check out at least six (6) books between June 6 and June 24. To validate each visit, each reading record must be stamped. Merit stamps will be awarded for every five (5) books reach beyond the basic goal of six books.

For more information about the Summer Reading Program, contact Jamie Elston at 467-5282.

American Flag Retirement Ceremony at Legion Post 77

The American Legion Post #77 of Waveland and the Boy Scouts of America Troop #77 will conduct an American Flag Retirement Ceremony at the Veterans Monument on Flag Day, Tuesday, June 14.

The ceremonies will begin at 8 p.m. with a parade of the colors by the Boy Scouts from the American Legion Post on Coleman Avenue to the Veterans Monument Flag Retirement Pit located on the Waveland beach at the foot of Coleman Avenue.

All veterans and the public are invited to attend the simple sunset ceremony consisting of an inspection of the flags to be retired and the proper disposal by burning of the flags.

Anyone with American Flags in unserviceable condition may drop them off at any Hancock County Library or American Legion Post #77. Flags are scheduled for a proper retirement on two occasions during the year - Flag Day, June 14 and Veteran's Day, November 11.

Task Force offers reward for info on suspected dealers

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS

Publisher Emeritus

The Bay-Waveland Narcotics Task Force is offering a reward for the whereabouts of local suspects charged with the sale of a controlled substance, (crack cocaine), according to directors Waveland Police Chief Jimmy Varnell and Bay St. Louis Police Chief Frank McNeal.

The chiefs said,

"Agents are looking for Brysson Laneaux, 22, black male, of Bay St. Louis, and Nick Daily, 23, of Waveland. Both are charged with sale of a controlled substance, (crack cocaine)."

"A cash reward will be offered for information that leads to the capture and arrest of each of the suspects," the chiefs reported in a news release.

Four Bay residents face cocaine charges

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS

Publisher Emeritus

Bay-Waveland Narcotics Task Force Agents conducted an evening street sweep arresting four Bay St. Louis street level dealers as suspects for the sale of a controlled substance, (crack cocaine), directors Bay Police Chief Frank McNeal and Waveland Police Chief Jimmy Varnell report.

"Glenda Jackson, 37, Eric Lymuel, 19, Eugene Lacour, 42, and Michael Rabateau, 51, all of Bay St. Louis, were arrested Thursday, and charged with the sale of a controlled substance, (crack cocaine)," McNeal and Varnell said in a news release.

Following their arrest, all four were transported to the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility and placed under a $25,000 each bond, according to booking records. Preliminary court date in Bay St. Louis Municipal Court has been set for July 13 for all four suspects.

Both Jackson and Lymuel are alleged to have sold illegal narcotics on Bay St. Louis Housing Authority property in the presence of children. Since both reside in Housing Authority property, they face lease termination because of the 'one strike and your out' policy on drug and criminal activity, Varnell and McNeal said. Any tips or complaints concerning illegal narcotics, please contact the Bay-Waveland Task Force at 228-467-5683.

Bay man faces three drug charges, held without bond

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS

Publisher Emeritus

Agents of the Bay-Waveland Narcotics Task Force arrested George L. Williams, 26, of Bay St. Louis on Thursday, June 9, on three counts of sale of a controlled substance, (crack cocaine), according to directors Bay St. Louis Police Chief Frank McNeal and Waveland Chief Jimmy Varnell.

"Williams was on Earned Release Supervision through the Mississippi Department of Corrections, (ERS). ERS is the highest probationary status an inmate can be given after being released from prison. Any violation results in immediate confinement and violation of probation," the chiefs news release said.

Williams was arrested when he reported to his probation officer and transported to the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility. A $50,000 bond was placed on Williams, but was unable to post bond because of his probation violation, the report said. Agents seized a vehicle that Williams used to deliver the crack cocaine and he is facing enhanced habitual charges due to previous felony narcotics convictions and selling illegal drugs within 1500 feet of a church," McNeal and Varnell stated.

PTA moms nabbed for embezzlement

BY JOHN WATERMAN

Staff Writer

Two Harrison county women were arrested Thursday for embezzling funds from the Pineville Elementary PTA.

Christine Driggers, president of the Pineville Elementary was arrested along with Mary Deloris Deloach, a non-licensed teacher's aide, for allegedly using $1,300 of PTA money to buy personal items.

Both women are being held at the Harrison County Jail. Driggers has a bond of $2,500, while Deloach's bond comes to $1,000.

The Harrison County Sheriff's department discovered made the arrests after reviewing the school's bank and school records, and determined that Driggers and Deloach had misappropriated school funds.

The Harrison County School district recently began a policy which requires principals to monitor the financial activity of any school-based group.

These policies are in accordance with state guidelines, and are intended to ensure that money generated through fundraisers or donations is spent on school related projects or activities.

Thanks Again, Bay Saint Louis!

Dear Bay Saint Louis,

Sixteen years ago began the first of the blessings that are your reward for being elected Mayor. You make new friends and become reacquainted with old ones while you are on the campaign trail.

You wait with anticipation while the votes are counted and you become everyone's shining star for that short moment in history. You get your first compliment for conducting your campaign like a gentleman and your shoulders become a lot straighter.

You hit the ground running and everyone wants to play on your team. You get really sick when you learn that the best wishes you received on election night weren't just for the good times.

The years go by and the straight road you saw so clearly grew some potholes, curves and bumps, but you never give up the vision because no one gave up on you - they delivered the vote and you had to deliver the goods.

Where have the 4380 days gone? Each day has passed with city workers, volunteers, professional and civic partners working with me to help bring about the success and rewards of living in a city that has grown into its legend as A Place Apart.

You have humbled me with your confidence, made me walk taller, smile broader, and once again given me blessings that can't be counted.

Thank you and God bless,

Eddie

Cuevas' Quotes

Hurricane season gets an early start

It seems 2005's weather patterns are about two months earlier than in previous years.

The extreme temperatures and thunderstorms usually occur during the month of August.

And then there is Arlene, a tropical storm scheduled to reach us before you read this column. This is really early in the hurricane season for this area to be contending with a tropical storm.

Now, I realize we have had years ago early-in-the-year storms, but they were during the winter months.

Anyway, we always need to be prepared for the quick changes in weather and being 'on the water,' we sure need to be prepared for Tropical storms and Hurricanes.

An event many folks from the area may be interested in will take place on July 15, 8 p.m. at Casino Magic's Bay St. Louis Entertainment Complex.

This will be Pete Fountain and the St. Rose de Lima Gospel Choir in Concert. Proceeds for the special event will be for St. Rose de Lima's Community Center which groundbreaking was held for several months ago.

As many of you know, Pete is well known world wide, while St. Rose's Choir, is one of the top choirs in the state.

Admission to the concert is $20. Tickets are available at Bookends, the Chamber, Labat's Cleaners and the St. Rose Parish office. For further information, call 467-7347.

Hats off to Lee Klein on his being named last Saturday's Alabama-Mississippi All-star Classic's Most Valuable Player award.

Klein a 2005 graduate of St. Stanislaus in Bay St. Louis, is a line backer, and usually most valuable players are on offense.

Klein is the first player ever from a Hancock County School to receive MVP honors in the annual classic.

Klein and the Mississippi All-stars defeated the Alabama squad 21-18.

Klein was credited with 12 tackles, a fumble recovery and a pass breakup. In addition to linebacker duties, he called defensive signals, was the deep snapper for punts and PATs, in addition to playing on the kickoff and kickoff return teams for Mississippi.

Also joining the All-star squad from St. Stanislaus was Jordan Ellis, fullback.

Best wishes go to Klein, as he is now headed to the Air Force Academy and we should be hearing about his further football exploits in years ahead.

Jobs and Security are job one

British thinker Paul Johnson said that "nothing appeals to intellectuals more than the feeling that they represent people. Nothing, as a rule, is further from the truth." It's the same for national leaders.

The Senate regularly evokes "the people" but often loses sense for what folks outside the beltway really want. Well, I'm thankful that Mississippians never let their Senators forget what's important. So, I've put forth a legislative agenda based on what Americans care most about - jobs and security.

From the Senate

By U.S. Sen. Trent Lott

* Highway Bill - No single piece of legislation has a greater impact on public safety and on our economy than the highway bill, and the Senate and House now are trying to craft a final measure. I'm a conferee on this bill - charged with resolving the differences between the Senate and House initial versions - and, as the chairman of the Senate's Surface Transportation Subcommittee, I authored this bill's safety provisions. It will govern our highways for the next six years, improving our roads and bridges, both of which now suffer 30 percent deficiencies. Better roads will save lives and help create new jobs, and I want this bill to be law before summer ends so that construction can begin on the roads and projects it covers.

* Immigration Bill - Mississippians have welcomed many new immigrants from places like Southeast Asia, Mexico and India. Most of these folks have assimilated and become part of our communities. They want and need work. Yet, we know that many immigrants come to America illegally. Unlike the legal immigration which came through Ellis Island a century ago, illegal immigrants are straining America's financial resources. And, in this age of terrorism, some are coming here for sinister purposes. Americans want Washington to address the illegal immigration problem before another domestic terrorist attack, not after. Americans recognize that many immigrants come here for a better life, and we want that dream to continue legally. I've advised President Bush that any immigration reform proposal containing amnesty for illegal aliens is unacceptable. We need an immigration bill that puts America's security first.

* Energy Bill - All Americans understand that

Legion: 'House Bill on VA Funding Inadequate'

The leader of the nation's largest veterans organization vehemently criticized the House of Representatives' passage last month of appropriations bill (H.R. 2528) that would fund the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) for Fiscal Year 2006.

"The American Legion is extremely disappointed with the inadequate appropriations allocation given to the new Military Quality of Life, Veterans Affairs and Related Agencies Appropriations Subcommittee," said National Commander Thomas P. Cadmus. "It simply did not provide enough funds for a nation at war to meet its obligations of active-duty service members, veterans, and their families."

Earlier this year, the House leadership reduced the number of the Committee Appropriations subcommittees from 13 to 10. One of the subcommittees lost was the Subcommittee on the Departments of Veterans Affairs, Housing and Urban Development, and Independent Agencies. This resulted in moving VA into a new subcommittee that includes Defense Health Programs, military construction, the American Battlefield Monuments Commission, Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims, Defense Cemeteries, and the Armed Forces Retirement Home.

"Instead of being in 'budget battles' over limited dollars with HUD projects, NASA, and others, VA is now in direct competition with active duty service members, military retirees and their families," explained Cadmus. "Historically, lawmakers understood the high funding priority need for VA in comparison with other programs within the Subcommittee, but now everything in this new Subcommittee is a high national priority."

For example, some lawmakers are quick to point out the $1.6 billion increase in VA medical services, but don't mention how they achieved it through reductions in FY 05 funding levels:

$533 million for medical administration
$417 million for medical facilities
$9 million reduction in medical and prosthetics research, and $184 million increase in medical care collections from veterans and their health insurance companies (overall, collections account for $2.2 billion of this appropriations).

"Overall, the Veterans Health Administrations increase for FY 06 is about $500 million," Cadmus points out. "Clearly not enough to maintain current services. Local VA medical facilities will have to begin rationing care. That means many veterans will be denied timely access to quality health care."

"As this budget is being

our nation is too dependent on foreign energy sources. We have different ideas about how to become energy independent, but we all agree that we must. On the Senate floor this week is an energy proposal calling for more domestic energy exploration, and conservation and research centered around what we now consider "alternative" energy, but which could indeed be tomorrow's standard energy sources. Americans care little about bickering between energy producers and environmentalists. They want an energy plan that protects jobs and keeps energy — including gasoline prices — affordable.

* Education — As a federal legislator, I have little authority over our state government's elementary and secondary schools, but I'm able to assist our secondary schools with federal investments in research, new academic programs and other initiatives. The Senate should act to reauthorize programs to support accessibility and affordability of higher education, and support more links of our colleges and universities with the business sector. More and more, companies seeking to put jobs in our state want strong ties with local universities and community colleges. These relationships no longer are an option for economic growth, but a necessity.

* Lawsuit Reform — Public outcry against out-of-control lawsuits have forced state and federal governments to enact tort reforms designed to protect jobs. Now before the Senate is a proposal to end the many outstanding asbestos lawsuits by consolidating them into one award pool. Both employers and injured workers have agreed to this concept. Yet, there still are some who clearly have sued without merit, actions unfair to workers suffering real injury or to employers trying to stay afloat. We must pass an asbestos bill equally designed to help injured workers and protect jobs. Each of these bills represents, not Washington's agenda, but America's. Security and jobs comprise the agenda people really care about. It doesn't take an "intellectual" to see it or to enact it.

finalized, VA medical facilities across the country are already expressing FY-05 budgetary shortfalls and we are not even in the final quarter of that fiscal cycle," Cadmus said. "One VA medical center director is no longer scheduling appointments for new enrollees. VA Secretary Nicholson is still denying enrollment of others."

"Yesterday as our Nation observed Memorial Day, our thoughts turned to those veterans that paid the ultimate price for freedom," remarked Cadmus. "I hope the Nation also remembers its obligation to the men and women of the armed forces — past, present, and future. Turning veterans away from a VA medical facility falls well short of that expectation."

Founded in 1919, the 2.7 million-member American Legion is the nation's pre-eminent service organization for veterans of the U.S. armed forces, including active duty, National Guard and Reserves, and their families. A powerful voice for veterans in Washington, The American Legion drafted the original GI Bill and was instrumental in establishing the agency that today is the federal Department of Veterans Affairs.

Adrienne Gannon

Gannon selected to Girls Nation

Adrienne Gannon, a student at Our Lady Academy, has been selected as a Senator to the 59th Annual Girls Nation sponsored by the National American Legion Auxiliary to be held in Washington, DC from July 23 through July 30, 2005.

Gannon is one of only two delegates selected from among 400 girls who attended Girls State recently on the campus of the University of Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg. She was sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139 in Bay St. Louis. A continuation of Girls State is Girls Nation where two Senators from each state are selected to participate in a simulated national government program. A highlight of Girls Nation will be a meeting with President Bush and the Mississippi Congressional members while visiting the Nation's Capital.

Gannon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Gannon of Gulfport. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Shirley T. Piazza of Waveland and the late C.J. Piazza and the late Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Gannon, Sr. Gannon is the great-great niece of Clement R. Bontemps, in whose honor the American Legion Post 139 is named. She will be a senior this coming school year at Our Lady Academy where she has been a student since the seventh grade. While at OLA, she has participated in the YMCA Youth Legislature and is a member of the varsity softball team. Gannon serves as a volunteer with the Mississippi Special Olympics and as a CCD religious instructor at St. John the Evangelist Church. She is a member of the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139 Juniors and is currently serving as Miss Poppy 2005. After graduating from Our Lady Academy, she plans to attend the University of Mississippi and major in pre-law.

Dancing History Repeats Itself

History is repeating itself with the opening of Lil Piccola's School of Dance in the Bay-Waveland area. Piccola Johnston is following her mother's footsteps by opening a dance studio this fall. Her mother opened Piccola's School of Dance on Nicholson Ave. in Waveland in 1956 and taught there until she retired in 1988. For many years this was the only dance studio in the area. She will carry on her mother's motto of "WALK IN—DANCE OUT."

Lil Piccola will be registering students at her new studio at 1245 Old Spanish Trail (corner of Bouslog) in Bay St. Louis on July 16th and 23rd from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. She will be offering courses in Tap, Ballet, and Jazz for all ages. If a child can walk, they can dance. For more information call (228) 463-0555 or email Piccola at PicDance@wmconnect.com ~advertisement~

Mississippi sends 28 to the major leagues

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

The state of Mississippi leads the nation in the number of professional athletes produced per capita with 17 for every 100,000 and that was evidenced by the Major League Baseball draft held on June 8-9.

The state sent a total of 28 players with ties to the Magnolia State during the course of the two-day 50-round draft. The baseball draft is much different than the NFL or NBA drafts which are uniquely marketed and televised. The MLB draft takes place on a conference call with the team representatives. They have roughly two minutes to make a pick; however, it rarely takes that amount of time for a team to make a selection.

Each team has an opportunity to draft each round but they may pass on a selection, as well. Once again, that rarely happens. In all, about 1,500 players from high school, junior college and senior college are drafted into the professional ranks. Those drafted in the first five rounds are usually the ones who receive the big-time contracts and are looked at to make a fast run to the big leagues. Teams have 15 days to tender a minor league contract to players according to league regulations.

Mississippi State's Brad Corley was the first Mississippi player chosen. He was drafted in the second round (#59 overall) by the Pittsburgh Pirates. Corley is an outfielder who led the Bulldogs to the SEC Tournament title and a NCAA regional appearance in Miami.

Another Mississippi player was chosen in the second round. Stephen Head of Ole Miss, the consensus top-rated prospect in the state, was chosen #62 overall by the Cleveland Indians. Head, the 2004 Ferriss Award winner, has been an integral part of the Ole Miss Rebels' leap into the national spotlight for baseball.

Head has been a two-way player for the Rebels for three seasons. He is an everyday first baseman who is also a relief pitcher that can come in and seal the win. He has a school record 25 saves to his credit on the mound in three seasons.

Brian Pettway, the 2005 Ferriss Award winner and junior at Ole Miss, was drafted in the third round by the Toronto Blue Jays with the 86th pick overall. Pettway, a national collegiate player of the year candidate, burst onto the scene this year with a redefined focus for baseball. The power-hitting outfielder entered this baseball season after dropping 25 pounds in the off-season. This drop in extra weight resulted in a quicker and more powerful Pettway that has wooed the scouts.

He led the SEC in hitting with a .402 average and belted 17 homeruns while leading the Ole Miss Rebels to a share of the SEC Western Division title, an appearance in the SEC Tournament title game, an NCAA Regional title and a spot in the Oxford Super-Regional against the University of Texas Longhorns. The winner of the super-regional will advance to the College World Series.

Two more Ole Miss Rebels were chosen in the third round with #97 and #100 picks overall. Matt Maloney, a left-handed pitcher, was picked up by the Philadelphia Phillies while Mark Holliman, a right-handed hurler, was chosen by the storied Chicago Cubs. Both Maloney and Holliman were in the weekend SEC rotation for Ole Miss throughout the season.

In Round 5, Eric Fowler was chosen by the Toronto

In Round 6, Alcorn State's Corey Wimberly was picked up by the Colorado Rockies with the 177th pick. Wimberly, a second baseman, led the nation in hitting. Brent Leach, a left-handed pitcher from Delta State, was chosen with the 196th pick by the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Anthony Cupps, a right-handed pitcher from Ole Miss, was taken by the Arizona Diamondbacks in Round 7 with the 201st pick overall.

Gulport's Garner Wetzel rounded out the Mississippi players chosen on day one being picked in the 10th round by the Colorado Rockies with the 297th pick overall.

The Millsaps shortstop played his prep ball at St. John High School. The first day of the draft on June 8 was made up of 18 rounds of selections.

On Day Two of the draft, the first Mississippi player chosen was Carl Lipsey of Jackson State University. The second baseman was chosen in Round 23 with the 708th pick overall by the Boston Red Sox.

In Round 25, Blake Jones of Northwest Rankin High School was chosen by the Florida Marlins with the 756th pick. Jones is a right-handed pitcher.

With the 762nd pick overall, Barry Gunther, a catcher from Ole Miss, was picked by the San Francisco Giants in Round 25.

Brad Willcutt, a catcher from USM, was chosen with 805th pick overall in Round 27 by the Milwaukee Brewers.

Three players with Mississippi ties were chosen in Round 29. Patrick Barnes, and outfielder from Southwest Community College, was chosen with 864th pick by the Washington Nationals.

Malcolm Wesson, a left-handed pitcher from Itawamba Community College, was picked 876th by the Florida Marlins. Jamie Gant, a right-handed pitcher from Mississippi State, was chosen 884th by the Houston Astros.

In Round 31, Cooper Osteen, a second baseman from Ole Miss, was picked by the Philadelphia Phillies with the 937th pick overall.

Cody Satterwhite, a right-handed pitcher from Hillcrest Christian Academy, was chosen by the Cleveland Indians in Round 37 with the 1,114th pick.

Tyler Moore and Michael Robbins were both chosen in Round 41. Moore, a first baseman from Northwest Rankin High School, was picked by the Washington Nationals with the 1,222nd pick. Robbins, a left-handed pitcher from Meridian Community College, was picked 1,244th by the Atlanta Braves.

In Round 42, Paul Treadway, a right-handed pitcher from Pearl River Community College, was chosen with the 1,251st pick by the Washington Nationals. David Woods, a catcher from West Lauderdale High School, went with the 1,263rd pick to the Florida Marlins.

Brooks Dunn, a left-handed pitcher from Mississippi State, went with the 1,291st pick in Round 43 to the Chicago White Sox.

Thomas Berkery, a catcher from Mississippi State, was chosen by the Texas Rangers in Round 46 with the 1,382nd pick.

In Round 48, Joseph Hunter and Andrew Rice became the final Mississippians chosen. Hunter, an outfielder from Mississippi State, was picked by the Cleveland Indians with the 1,434th pick. Rice, an outfielder with Itawamba Community College, was snapped by the New York Yankees with the 1,447th pick.

Big Fish

Michael Stringer of Waveland started his summer vacation with this impressive catch. On Thursday, May 19, he went fishing with his great-grandfather, Robert Taconi, Sr., and landed this 32 pound, 40.5 inch drum. It took him approximately 15 minutes to reel this big boy in. When asked how catching a fish that size felt he simply replied, "Tired."

OLA's Jordan Fisher receives '05 Hull Award at Crescent Athletic Club Award ceremony

THE SEA COAST ECHO
Jordan Fisher, Our Lady Academy senior, received the 2005 "Hull" Award at the Crescent Athletic Club Awards Ceremony in May.

Named for Our Lady Academy's longtime teacher/coach/athletic director Harry Hull, who still coaches cross country and track, the award is presented to a graduating senior who has set herself apart in multiple sports at OLA. The "Hull" Award was created in 2002 to recognize OLA's "Best All Around" athlete each year.

Fisher played both volleyball and softball while at OLA. She was a varsity member of the OLA volleyball team which won the overall state championship in the 2002-2003 season and the Class 1 state championship in 2003-2004. She was also a varsity member of the OLA softball team which won South State in 2004.

Previous winners of the "Hull" Award are Emily Meyers in 2002 and Katherine Milner and Julie Reboul in 2003, and Rachel Cranford in 2004.

Fisher is the daughter of Lori (Sallinger, OLA '76) and Rodney Fisher of Pass Christian.

Purple Heart Auxiliary Unit 771

Pictured are May Dempsey, Cheryl Moore, Helen Roberson, Yvonne Jones and Cathy Garriga, Unit 771 officers for the 2005-06 year, recently installed during the Mississippi Ladies Auxiliary Military Order of Purple Heart (LAMOPH) convention in Biloxi. During the convention, three of Unit 771 members were elected to State office: Alvina Nichols to Chaplin, Collett Cook to Musician and Yvonne Jones to Senior Vice President. To generate needed funds, the ladies have been busy selling raffle tickets. The drawing was held at the Diamondhead Country Club after the Memorial Day ceremony. Ed Horstman of Biloxi won a hunting gun and Belle Hecker of Diamondhead won an Afghan. Mrs. Laura Cooley of Ocean Springs, widow of Sean Cooley, who was killed in Iraq, has joined LAMOPH Unit 771. The Auxiliary members extend their deepest sympathy to her in the loss of her husband.

remained in effect from Grand Isle to the mouth of the Pearl River.

The National Hurricane Center also had hurricane warnings in effect for portions of the Coast from Pascagoula eastward toward Destin.

At 10 a.m. Saturday, the center of the storm was estimated to be about 85 miles south-southeast of Mobile, with gusts just below hurricane strength and maximum sustained winds near 70 miles per hour.

Arlene was moving toward the north-northwest at around 15 mph, but becoming less organized, according to satellite images released by the Naval Weather Service.

Coastal storm surge flooding of three-to-five feet above normal tide levels was expected, according to the report, "along with large and dangerous battering waves," near and to the east of where the center makes landfall.

As Arlene approached the Mississippi Gulf Coast on Friday, preparations were already well under way. By that morning, officials all around Hancock County were busy putting emergency storm plans into action. At 10 a.m., Hancock Emergency Management director Brian "Hootie" Adam had already put in almost a full day on the job, and until any danger of Arlene has passed, he said, he will stay on the job.

Three other staff members and two volunteers manned the emergency management center on Friday and Adams said several more volunteers would be brought in if conditions were to worsen on Saturday. On Friday, Adam checked in regularly with NOAA weatherman Frank Rivette in Slidell to track the storm's path and with other area emergency centers.

With only one official shelter available in the county at Hancock North Central Elementary School, Adam confirmed with emergency director of Pearl River County Bobby Strahan that other shelters would be ready to open if the need should arise. The Pearl River center has already lent the county extra sand bags that were ready for handout at the Hancock County Civic Center.

Both the city of Bay St. Louis and the City of Waveland also declared the approach of the storm to be an emergency situation and put emergency personnel such as police and fire departments and public works employees on call. Mayor Eddie Favre said utilities workers would be on call to ensure that power would be uninterrupted.

A strategy meeting was held late Friday afternoon with the Board of Supervisors and officials from the two cities.

Representatives from the Mississippi Emergency Management Agency were sent to all the coastal counties to assist officials in decisions concerning evacuation and other emergency operations.

Coast Electric also activated its preliminary emergency response and restoration plan on Friday morning.

"We have a through emergency response plan that will allow us to take quick action," said manager of engineering and Western division operations Steve Pitzer. "Rest assured that Coast Electric is prepared for a fast response."

MEMA recommends that each resident do several things to prepare for storms: Develop and review a family evacuation plan; develop and review a family communications plan; develop and maintain a current family disaster supply kit.

Adam said his strongest recommendation is to be aware of your own area. If a road or area has flooded in the past, be aware of that, he said, and be prepared to evacuate before water rise. Also, he said, closely monitor weather reports and have a plan in place. Avoid parking cars on Hwy. 603 or in private store parking lots. The Hancock County Equine Center in Kiln will be available for parking cars or larger vehicles, he said.

Coaches

mate, board members Packer Ladner and Rose Acker voted against hiring the entire coach roster.

If the tie is not resolved at the board's next meeting on June 16, none of the coaching positions will be filled, unless the board calls a special meeting before the June 30 deadline.

Since the board only has four members, a tie vote will result in the failure of any motion. The fifth district representative, Larry Seal, resigned in February.

Seal criticized the board's current position in a letter to The Sea Coast Echo, citing a portion of the board's charter. It states that "unless good reason to the contrary exists, the board shall elect the employees so recommended," Seal said.

Following the June 2 meeting, Superintendent David Kopf said the administration would present each recommendation for a coaching position to the board.

At the meeting, Packer Ladner and Rose Acker said they had heard complaints from their constituents about Michael Ladner's fitness as a coach.

Seal said that these complaints should not be grounds to dismiss the school's recommendation.

"I heard similar complaints from parents against Coach Michael Ray Ladner when I was on the board and the one I love the most was that Coach Ladner interfered with the boys' ability to go out and get in trouble on New Year's Eve because he would hold a practice the next morning, and 'he yells.' I don't think there is an effective coach that doesn't raise his voice at some point in time to get a point across," Seal wrote.

Packer Ladner stood by his vote.

"I think it's time for a change," he said, but added that did not want to elaborate further.

Favre -- Greatest

Mississippi, not everyone had heard of the nomination, but no one seemed surprised. Signs announcing Favre's birthplace and a mural on a local store commemorate the success of the more-than-15-year veteran quarterback. Locals are used to people visiting the area, many from Wisconsin, where Favre plays with the Green Bay Packers.

"They want to see where Brett is from and they want to talk to us about him," said Star Cameron, who said she is married to Brett's wife Deanna's godfather. "A lot of the Green Bay people sign the wall (the mural wall on the north side of Dolly's store)."

"He's a pretty good person and a very good football player-- not too many people can play ball like that," Star said. "And of course he also helps disadvantaged children with the charity he and Deanna have."

Earnest Cameron, Deanna's godfather, thought the nomination was great.

"He's a great fellow," said Earnest. "He helps a lot of people and he's a clown, a funny guy."

Both Earnest and Star said that when Favre is home, he still likes to ride the tractor on the family property and "he always invites us to parties and is real friendly," said Star.

Two young men stopping by the store, Beau Shubert and Dustin Johnson, said they didn't know Favre personally, but knew of him, of course. Both agreed that he's a great quarterback and a good player.

Brett's mother Bonita was busy moving in plants and getting ready for Tropical Storm Arlene on Friday, but took a minute to be a proud mother. She said Brett hadn't called her with the news but that his special events coordinator had.

"It's quite an honor to be compared to presidents and other prestigious people" said Bonita. "I'm sure he knows, but he hasn't called me -- he knows I read the paper and keep informed, though. There's no doubt about it that he is one of the greatest quarterbacks and he does a lot of charity work."

"I don't know who nominated him but his fans in Wisconsin love him--they are unbelievable -- they were lined up even at my book signing -- I couldn't believe they wanted to see me."

Like any mother, Bonita is most proud of the simple things.

"I'm proud of the way he turned out ... he's a good family man and a good father and he's always been a leader."

Favre's wife Deanna was recently given the all-clear on her bout with breast cancer and Favre, who had taken a brief hiatus, will return to play next season, he has announced.

COL. STU FINLAYSON
Colonel Hugh S. "Stu" Finlayson, US Army, Retired, 82, died Thursday, June 9, 2005, in Diamondhead, MS.

Col. Finlayson was a native of Akron, Ohio, and had been a resident of Diamondhead, MS, since 1980.

He retired from the Army in 1974 with over 31 years of service, which included tours of duty in the Battle of the Bulge during WW II, Korea, Vietnam, the American Embassy in Belgium, and numerous stateside assignments, ending as Professor of Military Science at Loyola University in New Orleans. Earlier in his life, he pitched with the Brooklyn Dodgers after graduation from the University of Missouri.

Colonel Finlayson's decorations include The Legion of Merit, Bronze Star, and Air Medal with Oak Leaf Cluster, Joint Services Commendation Medal, Army Commendation Medal, Combat Infantryman Badge, and Republic of Vietnam Cross of Gallantry. He was named to the Field Artillery Hall of Fame.

His wife, Dorothy Finger Finlayson, preceded him in death. Survivors include a daughter, Linda Finlayson Williams, of Diamondhead; a brother, Dr. George Finlayson, of Mansfield, Ohio; and a special friend, John Hall, of Diamondhead. Sincere thanks are expressed to Vicki Freeman and Elaine Nabers, two capable compassionate caregivers who maintained Stu's quality of life. The family also extends its gratitude to the kindness shown by the staff of Quality Home Health Care, Quality Hospice of the Gulf Coast, and Hancock Medical Center.

A graveside service with full military honors will be held in Grandview Cemetery, Fort Collins, Colorado, at a later date.

The family prefers memorials to the charity of one's choice.

Locals head to Washington to join grassroots coalition

THE SEA COAST ECHO

This week, over 100 travelers representing 15 states including Mississippi and Louisiana will visit 250 Congressional Offices in Washington, DC to deliver a grassroots message of support for America's Vision for Space Exploration from the community perspective.

Citizens for Space Exploration have visited Washington D.C. every year since 1992 to support continued funding for space and have become known as informed and credible NASA supporters. This year, almost one fourth of the total travelers participating represent Partners for Stennis, a regional grassroots advocacy organization of citizens and businesses for space, ocean and earth exploration from Mississippi and Louisiana.

Organizers of the effort say the trip to DC is important because it gives citizens the opportunity to express to Congress how important they believe space exploration is for U.S. leadership and economic vitality. A study, conducted by Dr. Charles A. Campbell, professor of economics, Mississippi State University in March 2005 indicates the impact to the MS/LA regional economy would be significant if Stennis Space Center was not located in Hancock County, Mississippi on the Louisiana border.

"Employment in the area would have been reduced by 24,391 jobs. Personal income would have been reduced by more than $914.3 million, and retail sales would have been reduced by more than $365.7 million," said Chuck Benvenuti, CPA and Chairman of Partners for Stennis. The economic impact on the area would also be severe if the external tank for the Space Shuttle System was not manufactured at the Michoud Facility in Eastern New Orleans.

Glade Woods, Co-Chairman of the DC Fly-in for Partners said, "Support for the President's Space Exploration Vision is the primary message."

After making the case for space, Partners representatives also plan to voice support of efforts specific to Stennis and Michoud. As citizens, Reid says it is important to demonstrate support of space, earth and ocean exploration for many reasons. "It also inspires our youth and promotes the study of math, science and engineering to grow the next generation of explorers," he said.

Woods echoes Reid's remarks adding that supporting space exploration drives the development of advanced technologies, materials and products to make the U.S. more competitive. He notes that is also benefits medical and other research to improve the quality of life on Earth.

The coalition visiting DC is comprised of individuals representing diverse areas of economic development, education, small business, county and municipal government and the aerospace industry. Representatives from the two state area of Mississippi and Louisiana who represent Partners for Stennis and the Louisiana Partnership for Aerospace include: Jason Brady, A-B Computer Solutions; John Chaszar, Casino Magic Bay St. Louis and President, Hancock Chamber; Daniel Ferrari, Lockheed Martin Space System Co, New Orleans; John Hairston, Hancock Bank; Clay Harper, High Performance Solutions; Chris Harvey, Enterprise for Innovative Geospatial Solutions; Roy Keller, LA Business & Technology Center; Joyce Lawrence, The Boeing Company; Greg Mitchell, Mayor of Picayune; Lee Reid, Adams and Reese; Tish Williams, Partners for Stennis & Hancock Chamber; Patrick Witty, CLECO Power, Louisiana; and Glade Woods, Partners for Pearl River County.

Crack -- DHS

Catalantto was selling and using crack cocaine in the presence of her 11-month-old daughter, Varnell said. Agents discovered the living conditions were "deplorable" and discovered a large amount of paraphernalia throughout the small motel room, he said.

"DHS took custody of the small infant and plan on conducting a full investigation," according to the report.

All three suspects have a preliminary court date at Waveland Municipal Court on July 7.

PUBLIC NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR COASTAL WETLANDS PERMIT AND WATER QUALITY CERTIFICATION

Silver Slipper-Casino-Venture, LLC (SSCV) has filed an application with the Mississippi Department of Marine Resources requesting permission to conduct regulated activities under the provision of the Coastal Wetlands Protection Act, Title 49, Chapter 27, Mississippi Code of 1972, in the Mississippi Sound, Harrison and Hancock Counties, MS.

SSCV is requesting authorization to excavate a temporary dry dock basin, construct a pile supported casino support system, remove the existing President Casino vessel from the Broadwater Marina, Biloxi, Harrison County, MS and locate and operate the President Casino vessel at the Silver Slipper Casino in the MS Sound near the mouth of Bayou Caddy, Hancock County, MS. The project involves dredging and construction activities in the Mississippi Sound at the Broadwater Marina and at the former site of the Jubilee Casino near the mouth of Bayou Caddy. The dredging and construction activities at the Broadwater Marina are necessary for the removal of the President Casino vessel. Dredging and construction activities at Bayou Caddy are related to necessary work in order to prepare the site for receipt of and mooring of the President Casino vessel for operation as the Silver Slipper Casino.

Activities occurring at the Broadwater site are the following: 1) a portion of an existing channel measuring 1,600 ft. in length and 12 ft. in width and a 0.5 acre irregular shaped area adjacent to the channel will be dredged to a depth of -5 ft. MLW. Approximately 7,500 cubic yards of material will be dredged; 2) in order to remove the President Casino vessel, an existing breakwater will be removed. Upon vessel removal, the breakwater will be reconstructed within its original location and dimensions with pressure treated piles and timbers.

Activities occurring at the Bayou Caddy site are the following: 1) a temporary transfer basin measuring 435 ft. in length and 165 ft. in width will be dredged to a depth of -14 ft. MLW along with a small triangular shaped area measuring approximately 250 ft. in length at its longest point and 185 ft. in width at its widest point dredged to a depth of -8 ft. MLW. Approximately 25,000 cubic yards of material will be dredged. Dredged material will be placed and contained in a temporary disposal area on the sand beach adjacent to the site. 2) The casino vessel will be supported by a system of steel pipe piles that will allow the vessel to be elevated above the water. The support system requires the installation of ten support beams fixed to a system of vertical and battered steel pipe piles varying in size. 3) The casino vessel will be transferred to the support system via the transfer basin. 4) Upon transfer, the basin will be refilled to a depth of -8 ft. MLW. 5) In order to perform the above activities at Bayou Caddy, the applicant has applied to relocate the existing sand beach rock jetty at the southwestern end of the beach and permanently remove approximately 50 ft. of the beach area to provide room for the transfer basin.

All unused dredged material will be placed in an approved upland site or, if available, used at a designated beneficial dredged material site. Other portions of the project include the construction of a parking garage, restaurant and entertainment facilities. SSCV is currently assessing the need for a land-based hotel facility at the project site. The applicant currently has valid certifications to perform certain activities in the Mississippi Sound near Bayou Caddy, Hancock County, MS.

In accordance with the provisions of the Mississippi Coastal Program (MCP), the applicant is requesting a variance from the guideline that states "Depth of marina basins, boatpits and access channels shall not be any deeper than the controlling depth of the parent body of water." The depth of the parent body of water, Bayou Caddy channel, is -8 ft. MLW. The applicant has provided the DMR with justification for the request stating that the impact is temporary and the basin will be restored to a depth consistent with the MCP guidelines.

In compliance with Section 401 of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act (33 U.S.C. 1251, 1341), as amended by PL 95-217, the applicant will request certification from the Office of Pollution Control that the above mentioned activity will be in compliance with applicable provisions of Section 301 (33 U.S.C. 1311), Section 302 (33 U.S.C. 1312), Section 303 (U.S.C. 1313), Section 306 (U.S.C. 1316), and Section 307 (U.S.C. 1317) of the Act and appropriate requirements of the State Law.

Any person wishing to make comments or objections to the proposed regulated activity must submit those comments in writing to the Department of Marine Resources at 1141 Bayview Avenue, Biloxi, Mississippi 39530 and the Office of Pollution Control, Post Office Box 10385, Jackson, Mississippi 39298-0385 before the close of business on Tuesday, June 28, 2005.

Independence Day at Bayou Talla - Kiln

On Sunday, July 3, Bayou Talla Fellowship Church, Kiln, will host the 4th Annual "I Love America Celebration and Bar-B-Q Cook-off." Each year this event on Independence Day weekend raises funds for needs in our community. The event is held on the church grounds.

All funds collected for this event go to the community. In 2002 over $10,000 was raised to benefit a local child in need of life saving heart treatment.

The morning service begins at 10 a.m. and will honor Hancock County Educators. The Cook-off begins at 6 p.m. and will include steak, chicken, and assorted condiments. Various bands will be performing. Those wishing to participate in the cook-off or provide donations should call the church (255-1118) for information.

THANK YOU

Words cannot express our most sincere gratitude to all who participated in remembering and including our son, Sean Finegan, along with Joseph Winningham and Lindsey Carter, at the Bay High School Awards Ceremony and the Graduation Ceremony. It truly touched our hearts for you all to honor our children and pay tribute to them, even after six long years have passed. We wish to thank the students, faculty, Pastors and speakers, and all others involved, for loving our children as you all have done throughout the years. Thank you from the bottom of our hearts. You really don't know what this has meant to us. May God bless you all.

Hard Rock Biloxi to host job fair

Put on your best-worn blue jeans and get ready for sound check. Think you're going to a concert? Would you believe work? Hard Rock Hotel & Casino Biloxi has already hired 60 executives and staff, most of whom wear blue jeans to work every day. Daily update meetings, called Sound Check, take place every morning where most team members fight to be the first to yell out the correct answer to rock trivia for a simple Hershey kiss. "This meeting is a chance for all voices to be heard, regardless of the subject matter, and for valuable information to be passed to all team members in a relaxed, fun fashion," said

Vice President of Human Resources, Cathy Cornett. Sound different than the corporate climate you are used to? That's because according to these 60 Hard Rockers, it is.

Cornett says these are just a few of the perks of working at Hard Rock Biloxi. Other benefits include some benefits not commonly found in the coastal casino industry, like weekly paydays and a casual-style wardrobe.

Cornett and her staff are responsible for the training of all 1,500 positions that are to be filled by opening. One of the Hard Rock attributes that Cornett stresses in training is to keep it authentic and have fun doing it. It is their job to convey the "Love all. Serve all." philosophy. Hard Rock International provides a huge variety of support for employee training full of innovative, cutting-edge concepts that support the continued growth of all Hard Rockers. But the spirit of Hard Rock is perpetuated daily and has already begun to spread in the current Lameuse Street location. That's what makes this one of the most interesting work environments in the South.

Scott King, an employee of two months stated, "It's kind of a paradox in that I produce more than I ever have at any other job while I don't really feel like I'm working. The key word is produce. At other jobs I always felt like I could do a lot more for my company but wasn't given that opportunity - that's not the case at Hard Rock."

The Hard Rock philosophy is based on authenticity, music, passion and service to the community. Hard Rockers all over the world are committed to serving the well-being of the planet and its people. Music is the tie that binds the human race.

For employment information on any position, visit the upcoming Hard Rock Biloxi Job Fair at the MS Coast Coliseum June 13 from 11 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and June 14 and 15, from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Gulf Coast Housing Coalition, local banks and Mississippi Home Corporation offer free fair

The month of June is designated as National Homeownership Month. What better way to celebrate than to have a free home buyer fair? Mississippi Home Corporation (MHC), in conjunction with the Gulf Coast Housing Coalition, Whitney Bank, The People's Bank, and BancorpSouth Bank, will be offering a free home buyer fair to potential home buyers of the Mississippi Gulf Coast and surrounding areas, from 10 a.m. - 2 p.m., Saturday, June 18 at the Biloxi Community Center, located at 591 Howard Avenue. According to Sister Christine Blair, homeowner coordinator with Mercy Housing, and Human Development, Inc., this home buyer fair will aid potential home buyers with what may be the biggest investment of their life.

"Having knowledge of affordable housing resources is the key to obtaining homeownership," said Sister Blair.

Home buyer fair attendees will have an opportunity to learn about the home buying process from the beginning to the end.

Mortgage lenders, Realtors, builders, among other housing-related professionals, will be on hand to inform potential home buyers about available housing resources. Those interested in attending the free home buyer fair in Biloxi should contact Sister Christine Blair at 228-896-1945, or Debbie Eldridge, marketing specialist with MHC at 1-800-544-9960.

Catalantto was selling and using crack cocaine in the presence of her 11-month-old daughter, Varnell said. Agents discovered the living conditions were "deplorable" and discovered a large amount of paraphernalia throughout the small motel room, he said.

"DHS took custody of the small infant and plan on conducting a full investigation," according to the report.

All three suspects have a preliminary court date at Waveland Municipal Court on July 7.

Public Notices

PUBLIC NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR COASTAL WETLANDS PERMIT AND WATER QUALITY CERTIFICATION
Silver Slipper Casino-Venture, LLC (SSCV) has filed an application with the Mississippi Department of Marine Resources requesting permission to conduct regulated activities under the provision of the Coastal Wetlands Protection Act, Title 49, Chapter 27, Mississippi Code of 1972, in the Mississippi Sound, Harrison and Hancock Counties, MS. SSCV is requesting authorization to excavate a temporary dry dock basin, construct a pile supported casino support system, remove the existing President Casino vessel from the Broadwater Marina, Biloxi, Harrison County, MS and locate and operate the President Casino vessel at the Silver Slipper Casino in the MS Sound near the mouth of Bayou Caddy, Hancock County, MS. The project involves dredging and construction activities in the Mississippi Sound at the Broadwater Marina and at the former site of the Jubilee Casino near the mouth of Bayou Caddy. The dredging and construction activities at the Broadwater Marina are necessary for the removal of the President Casino vessel. Dredging and construction activities at Bayou Caddy are related to necessary work in order to prepare the site for the installation of a temporary dry dock basin and for operation as the Silver Slipper Casino. Activities occurring at the Broadwater site are the following: 1) a portion of an existing channel measuring 1,800 ft. in length and 120 ft. in width and a 0.5 acre irregular shaped area adjacent to the channel will be dredged to a depth of -5 ft. MLW. Approximately 7,500 cubic yards of material will be dredged. 2) In order to remove the existing President Casino vessel, the vessel will be removed. Upon vessel removal, the breakwater will be reconstructed within its original location and dimensions with pressure treated piles and timbers. Activities occurring at the Bayou Caddy site are the following: 1) a temporary transfer basin measuring 435 ft. in length and 165 ft. in width will be dredged to a depth of -14 ft. MLW along with a small triangular shaped area measuring approximately 250 ft. in length at its longest point and 185 ft. in width at its widest point dredged to a depth of -9 ft. MLW. Approximately 25,000 cubic yards of material will be dredged. Dredged material will be placed and contained in a temporary disposal area on the sand beach adjacent to the site. 2) The casino will be supported by a system of steel pile piles that will allow the vessel to be elevated above the water. The support system requires the installation of two support beams fixed to a system of vertical and battered steel pile piles varying in size. 3) The casino vessel will be transferred to the support system via the transfer basin. 4) Upon transfer, the basin will be refilled to a depth of -8 ft. MLW. 5) In order to perform the above activities at Bayou Caddy, the applicant has applied to relocate the existing sand beach rock jetty at the southwestern end of the beach and permanently remove approximately 50 ft. of the beach area to provide room for the transfer basin. All unused dredged material will be placed in an approved upland site or, if available, used at a designated beneficial dredged material site. Other portions of the project include the construction of a parking garage, restaurant and entertainment facilities. SSCV is currently assessing the need for a land-based hotel facility at the project site. The applicant currently has valid certifications to perform certain activities in the Mississippi Sound near Bayou Caddy, Hancock County, MS.

In accordance with the provisions of the Mississippi Coastal Program (MCP), the applicant is requesting a variance from the guideline that states "Depths of marina basins, boat slips and access channels shall not be any deeper than the controlling depth of the parent body of water." The depth of the parent body of water, Bayou Caddy channel, is -9 ft. MLW. The applicant has provided the DMR with justification for the request stating that the impact is temporary and the basin will be restored to a depth consistent with the MCP guidelines.

In compliance with Section 401 of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act (33 U.S.C. 1251, 1241), as amended by PL 95-917, the applicant will request certification from the Office of Pollution Control that the above mentioned activity will be in compliance with applicable provisions of Section 301 (33 U.S.C. 1311), Section 302 (33 U.S.C. 1312), Section 303 (33 U.S.C. 1313), Section 306 (33 U.S.C. 1316), and Section 307 (33 U.S.C. 1317) of the Act and appropriate requirements of the State Law. Any person wishing to make comments or objections to the proposed regulated activity must submit those comments in writing to the Department of Marine Resources at 1141 Bayview Avenue, Biloxi, Mississippi 39530 and the Office of Pollution Control, Post Office, Box 10305, Jackson, Mississippi 39209-0305 by the close of business on Tuesday, June 28, 2005. 08/12; 08/19; 08/26/05

On Sunday, July 3, Bayou Talla Fellowship Church, Kiln, will host the 4th Annual "I Love America Celebration and Bar-B-Q Cook-off." Each year this event on Independence Day weekend raises funds for needs in our community. The event is held on the church grounds.

All funds collected for this event go to the community. In 2002 over $10,000 was raised to benefit a local child in need of life saving heart treatment.

The morning service begins at 10 a.m. and will honor Hancock County Educators. The Cook-off begins at 6 p.m. and will include steak, chicken, and assorted condiments. Various bands will be performing. Those wishing to participate in the cook-off or provide donations should call the church (255-1118) for information.

THANK YOU

Words cannot express our most sincere gratitude to all who participated in remembering and including our son, Sean Finegan, along with Joseph Winningham and Lindsey Carter, at the Bay High School Awards Ceremony and the Graduation Ceremony. It truly touched our hearts for you all to honor our children and pay tribute to them, even after six long years have passed. We wish to thank the students, faculty, Pastors and speakers, and all others involved, for loving our children as you all have done throughout the years. Thank you from the bottom of our hearts. You really don't know what this has meant to us. May God bless you all. The Families of Sean Patrick Finegan

Hard Rock Biloxi to host job fair

Put on your best-worn blue jeans and get ready for sound check. Think you're going to a concert? Would you believe work? Hard Rock Hotel & Casino Biloxi has already hired 60 executives and staff, most of whom wear blue jeans to work every day. Daily update meetings, called Sound Check, take place every morning where most team members fight to be the first to yell out the correct answer to rock trivia for a simple Hershey kiss. "This meeting is a chance for all voices to be heard, regardless of the subject matter, and for valuable information to be passed to all team members in a relaxed, fun fashion," said

Vice President of Human Resources, Cathy Cornett. Sound different than the corporate climate you are used to? That's because according to these 60 Hard Rockers, it is.

Cornett says these are just a few of the perks of working at Hard Rock Biloxi. Other benefits include some benefits not commonly found in the coastal casino industry, like weekly paydays and a casual-style wardrobe.

Cornett and her staff are responsible for the training of all 1,500 positions that are to be filled by opening. One of the Hard Rock attributes that Cornett stresses in training is to keep it authentic and have fun doing it. It is their job to convey the "Love all. Serve all." philosophy. Hard Rock International provides a huge variety of support for employee training full of innovative, cutting-edge concepts that support the continued growth of all Hard Rockers. But the spirit of Hard Rock is perpetuated daily and has already begun to spread in the current Lameuse Street location. That's what makes this one of the most interesting work environments in the South.

Scott King, an employee of two months stated, "It's kind of a paradox in that I produce more than I ever have at any other job while I don't really feel like I'm

The Hard Rock philosophy is based on authenticity, music, passion and service to the community. Hard Rocks all over the world are committed to serving the well-being of the planet and its people. Music is the tie that binds the human race.

For employment information on any position, visit the upcoming Hard Rock Biloxi Job Fair at the MS Coast Coliseum June 13 from 11 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and June 14 and 15, from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Gulf Coast Housing Coalition, local banks and Mississippi Home Corporation offer free fair

The month of June is designated as National Homeownership Month. What better way to celebrate than to have a free home buyer fair? Mississippi Home Corporation (MHC), in conjunction with the Gulf Coast Housing Coalition, Whitney Bank, The People's Bank, and BancorpSouth Bank, will be offering a free home buyer fair to potential home buyers of the Mississippi Gulf Coast and surrounding areas, from 10 a.m. - 2 p.m., Saturday, June 18 at the Biloxi Community Center, located at 591 Howard Avenue.

According to Sister Christine Blair, homeowner coordinator with Mercy Housing and Human Development, Inc., this home buyer fair will aid potential home buyers with what may be the biggest investment of their life.

"Having knowledge of affordable housing resources is the key to obtaining homeownership," said Sister Blair.

Home buyer fair attendees will have an opportunity to learn about the home buying process from the beginning to the end.

Mortgage lenders, Realtors, builders, among other housing-related professionals, will be on hand to inform potential home buyers about available housing resources. Those interested in attending the free home buyer fair in Biloxi should contact Sister Christine Blair at 228-896-1945, or Debbie Eldridge, marketing specialist with MHC at 1-800-544-9960.

NOAA keeps tabs on the Earth's environment

THE SEA COAST ECHO
April 1, 2005, marked 45 years since the launch of the world's first weather satellite. Named TIROS (for Television Infrared Observation Satellite), it successfully demonstrated the advantage of mapping the Earth's cloud cover from space. Soon after, meteorologists saw the first pictures of a hurricane threatening the northeastern United States — and a new chapter in weather history had begun.

With today's advanced technology, it may be difficult to remember the days when there were no weather satellites, but it was less than a half century ago that many areas had little or no advance severe weather warning. Fortunately, modern NOAA satellites can spot and accurately track severe storms while they are still more than half a continent away.

NOAA'S MODERN SATELLITE CAPABILITIES

Since then, many NOAA weather satellites have been launched into orbit and their capabilities have improved significantly with new technologies. Not only do modern NOAA satellites observe clouds to track potentially devastating storms, but they also carry many instruments used to measure various environmental variables — providing vital information to not only meteorologists, but farmers, geologists, fishermen, foresters, the military, transportation sector and others. Perhaps most importantly, satellites are a vital component in the creation of a global earth observing system.

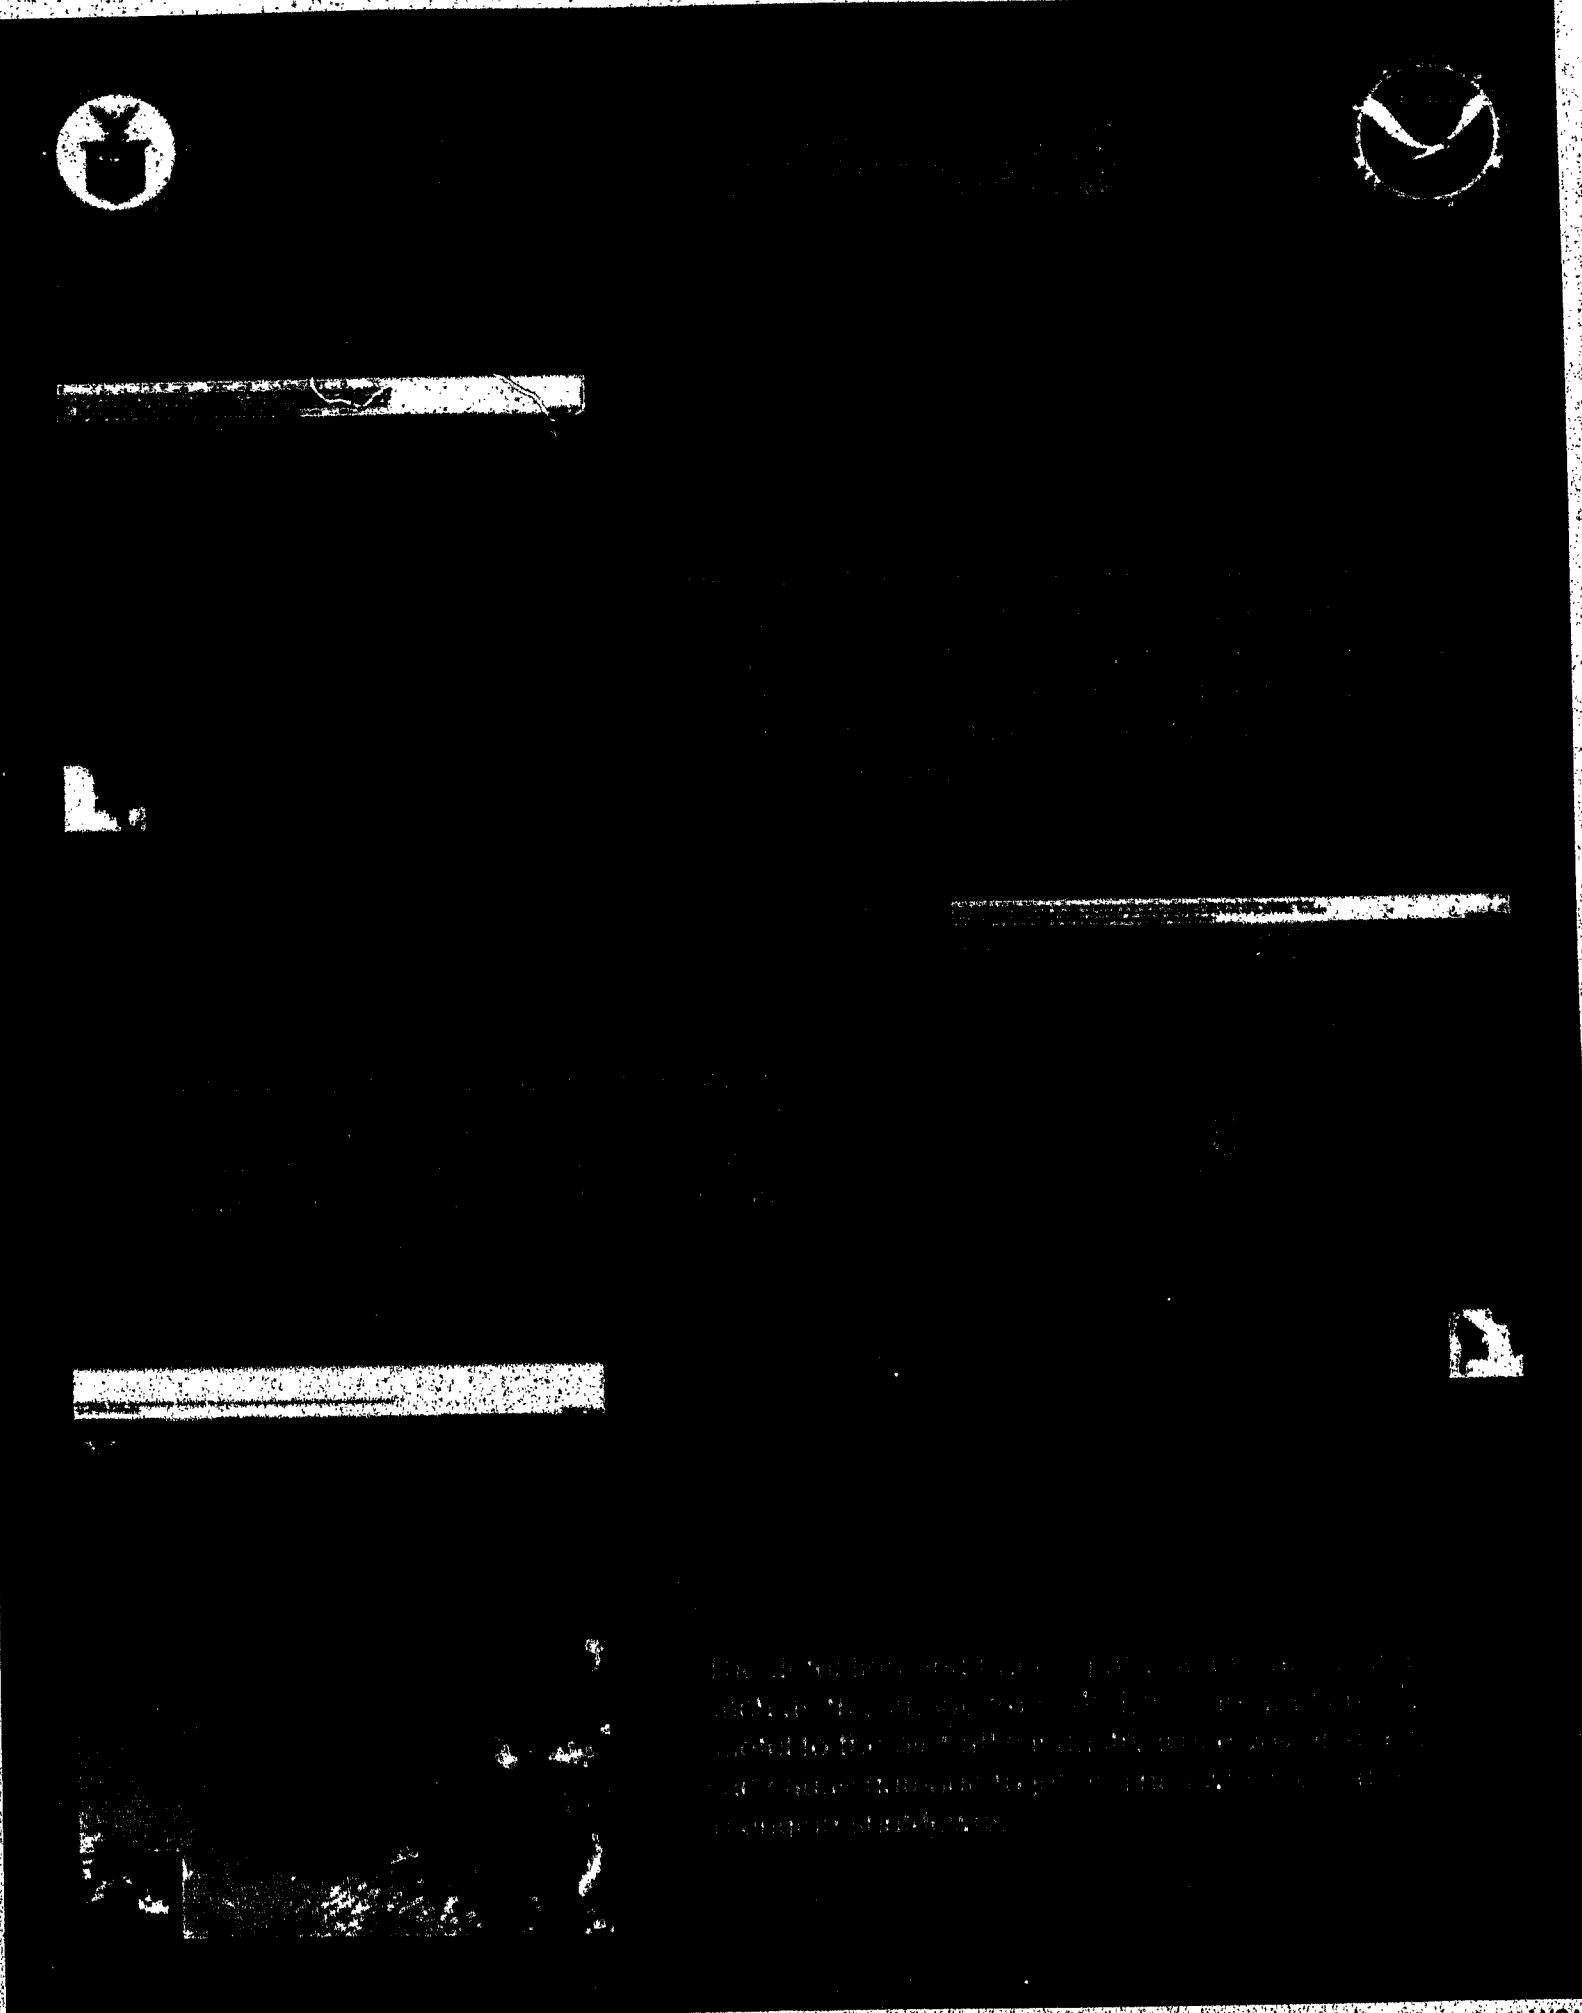

For example, all of NOAA's modern satellite systems (i.e., known as geostationary operational environmental satellites or GOES and polar-orbiting environmental satellites or POES) can provide the following information:

- *Atmospheric information about vertical moisture and temperature profiles, cloud properties, the Earth's radiation budget, precipitation and brightness temperature (a measure of the intensity of radiation thermally emitted by an object).
- *Land-based surface temperatures, as well as snow and ice cover.
- *Sea surface temperatures.

- *Opportunistic imagery from dust storms, fire/smoke, flooding, severe weather, tropical and volcanic events.

- *Other information from surface-based platforms (i.e., instrumented buoys, river gauges, automatic weather stations, seismic and tsunami stations and ships), space environmental monitoring and search and rescue satellite-aided tracking systems (also known as COSPAS-SARSAT) in support of humanitarian rescue operations.

Some environmental variables, however, are measured by only one particular type of NOAA satellite system. GOES, for example, can measure winds and the overall stability of the atmosphere. POES, on the other hand, can provide information about aerosols and ozone levels in the atmosphere, land surface emissivity and vegetation on land, sea ice and even oil spill events.

NOAA SATELLITES

Today, the nation's environmental satellites are operated by the NOAA Satellite and Information Service in Suitland, Md. The NOAA satellite system is composed of two types of satellites: GOES for national, regional, short-range warning and "now-casting" and POES for global, climate forecasting and environmental monitoring. Both types of satellites are necessary for providing a complete global weather monitoring system.

In addition, NOAA operates satellites in the Defense Meteorological Satellite Program, which are polar-orbiting satellites once owned by the U.S. Department of Defense's Air Force Space and Missile Systems Center. In 1998, President Clinton combined the functions of the DMSP satellites with that of NOAA's POES satellites, in order to create a more cost effective and higher performance integrated system. Later this decade, these satellites will be replaced by NOAA's next generation of polar satellites (i.e., the National Polar-Orbiting Operational Environmental Satellite System).

The NOAA Satellite and Information Service also manages the processing and distribution of the millions of bits of data and images the satellites produce each day. Specifically, NOAA satellites send more than 16,000 global measurements daily to the NOAA Environmental Satellite Processing Center computers, adding valuable information to weather forecasting and climate models, especially for remote ocean areas where conventional data are lacking. The prime customer is the NOAA National Weather Service, which uses satellite data to create forecasts for television, radio and weather advisory and warning services. Satellite information is also shared with various Federal agencies, such as the U.S. Departments of Agriculture, Interior, Defense and Transportation; with other countries, such as Japan, India and Russia; members of the European Space Agency and the United Kingdom Meteorological Office; and the private sector.

NOAA'S GEOSTATIONARY OPERATIONAL ENVIRONMENTAL SATELLITES

GOES provide the kind of continuous monitoring necessary for intensive data analysis. They circle the Earth in a geosynchronous orbit, traveling at an altitude of 22,300 miles (35,800 km) above the Earth's equatorial plane at a speed matching the Earth's rotation.

Because they both stay at a fixed spot on and provide a complete view of the Earth's surface, GOES are ideal for monitoring large-scale environmental phenomena (i.e., meteorology, hydrology and oceanography). For example, GOES can constantly monitor for atmospheric "triggers" for severe weather conditions, such as tornadoes, flash floods, hail storms and hurricanes. When these conditions develop, the GOES satellites can monitor storms and track their movements in near real time.

Most satellite images seen on the nation's broadcast media and The Weather Channel are produced by GOES satellites. Usually, the infrared images are "animated" to show the progression and movement of storms.

The data gathered by the GOES satellites, combined with that from new Doppler radars and sophisticated communications systems have made for improved forecasts and weather warnings that save lives, protect property and benefit agricultural and a variety of commercial interests.

The United States normally operates two meteorological satellites in geostationary orbit over the equator. Each satellite views almost a third of the Earth's surface: one monitors North and South America and most of the Atlantic Ocean, the other most of the Pacific Ocean basin, including Alaska and Hawaii.

NOAA's geostationary weather satellites trace their roots to NASA's Applications Technology Satellite (ATS), launched in December 1966, while the first GOES was launched on Oct. 16, 1975. It formed part of a two-satellite constellation that viewed nearly 60 percent of the Earth's surface (Unfortunately, GOES can only provide a very distorted view of the poles).

CURRENTLY OPERATING GOES

Currently, the United States is operating GOES-10 and GOES-12. (GOES-9, which is partially operational, is being used by the Japanese Meteorological Agency over the West Pacific Ocean. JMA launched MTSAT-1R in February 2005, which is expected to replace the aging GOES-9 in mid-summer 2005. GOES-11 is being stored in orbit as a replacement for GOES-12 or GOES-10 in the event of failure. GOES-12 (or GOES-East) is positioned at 75 W longitude and the equator, while GOES-10 (or GOES-West) is positioned at 135 W longitude and the equator. The two operate together to produce a full-face picture of the Earth — both day and night.

The Future of the GOES Satellite Program

The recent procurement of the GOES-N through -Q spacecraft marks the extension of the multi-satellite program designed to provide continuous monitoring of the Earth's weather systems and the related space environment. The new spacecraft will be used to continue and enhance the functions of the current GOES series of spacecraft. The next GOES satellite, GOES-N, will be launched later this year.

NOAA'S POLAR-ORBITING SATELLITES

Complementing the geostationary satellites are two polar orbiting satellites. Constantly circling the Earth in sun-synchronous orbit, these satellites support large-scale, long-range forecasts and numerous secondary missions. The global data from these satellites are used extensively in NOAA's weather and climate prediction numerical models.

The satellites circle the Earth in an almost north-south orbit, passing close to both poles. As the Earth rotates to the east beneath the satellite, each pass monitors an area to the west of the previous pass. These MDEQ support is making the performances by Bay St. Louis-based Bayou Town Productions available to approximately 200 sea campers and staff plus additional guests each week.

Scott Aquarium invites public to puppet musical

Kids and adults will be doing the "Water Cycle Dance" and learning all about how to control polluted runoff at a puppet show during Project Marine Discovery Sea Camp at the J.L. Scott Marine Education Center and Aquarium in Biloxi at 1 p.m. each Friday through July 29.

Thanks to the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality, the colorful and fast-paced musical is free to individuals and groups who make reservations.

MDEQ support is making the performances by Bayou Town Productions available to approximately 200 sea campers and staff plus additional guests each week. The puppets teach how individuals and communities can help control polluted runoff that goes into waterways and groundwater.

The puppeteers from Bay St. Louis involve the kids in the Water Cycle Dance and then do their Water Harmony show about watersheds," said Dr. Sheila Brown, coordinator of educational programs at The University of Southern Mississippi's Scott Aquarium. "We can take about 125 additional children and adults for each Friday's show, and we invite people to make reservations early."

Using music and puppets was the brainchild of Laura Beiser of MDEQ. She said she had seen previous performances and knew Bayou Town Productions would do a professional job. The MDEQ also helped the Bayou Town team of Cherie and Ron Schadler develop the content of the production.

"The message through music and puppets appeals to the different ways that children learn," Beiser said. "It holds their attention, they move with the music, and they enjoy it."

The show is free, by reservation only, and lasts up to an hour and 15 minutes. There is a special reduced rate for guests who come to the puppet show and also wish to visit the aquarium. The reduced rate is adults $4, senior adults $3.50 and ages 3-12 $2.50. Admission is free to ages 2 and under. For reservations or for more information about Sea Camp, call (228) 374-5550.

The puppet show and an "Ocean Odyssey" carnival close Sea Camp each week for registered campers. The marine science day camp is for ages 5-16. Five-day sessions will be offered through July 29 and feature hands-on activities, encounters with live animals, field trips, games, computer lab and art.

Sessions for 5-year-old campers run from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. Hours for all other ages are 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sea Camp registration forms and information are available at www.usm.edu/aquarium/pm/dsecomp.html.

The Scott Aquarium is on the Biloxi campus of the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory in Ocean Springs. The GCRL is a unit of the Southern Miss College of Science and Technology.

Students make huge Math-A-Thon donation

East Elementary held a Math-A-Thon to benefit St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital. The event coordinator was Miss Amity Graves, a third grade teacher at the school. Students asked community and family members to make pledges contingent on the amount of math problems each child was able to complete out of the 250 problems in the St. Jude Math Fun Book.

The third and fourth graders that participated were able to collect $1700 for the hospital and its research facilities. The funds will help St. Jude in its ongoing fight against childhood catastrophic diseases, such as cancer, AIDS and sickle cell disease.

The Math-A-Thon program is sponsored by Six Flags Theme Parks, which provides free passes to their parks for every student raising $35 or more through the campaign.

Abiding in God's Love

As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you; abide in my love. If you keep my commandments, you will abide in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and abide in His love. These things I have spoken to you, that your joy may be full (John 15:9-11). These encouraging verses from the Holy Bible should be beneficial in helping us build a deeper relationship with God, and allow us to stay in His love. At times, the daily happenings of our busy world may cause us to forget about God's love, and this may cause us to separate ourselves from Him. Having a good prayer life and asking God for His help in everything we do will strengthen our relationship with Him. We should try to recognize all of the daily blessings that come our way, and also accept any disappointments without grumbling or complaining. Problems, or even disasters, should be a means to help us grow in God's love, we abide in Him and our joy may be full.

If you abide in me, and my words abide in you, ask whatever you will, and it shall be done for you.

Music heals the savage beast

"I was home for two weeks just waiting for death to come, but for some reason I asked my wife to buy a keyboard. The first thing I played was Bridge Over Troubled Water, and then I told myself that I must live. I still had things to do."

Toti Fuentes was reacting to the rending news that he had a rare form of cancer which only four in a million cancer patients have, a gastro-intestinal tumor eating away at his stomach. In unknown, alien territory, his spirit waned as mortal fear gripped him. He went so far as to bid farewell to his friends in a concert in November of 2003.

From a ponderous 270 pounds, Toti had slipped to 220, then began to lose even more. It was then that medical tests by nine doctors indicated he had a rare form of cancer which could kill him in three months. At that point, he dug in and waited for death.

Unlike most musicians, Toti did not smoke or drink.

When he went out, he did so because it was a gig that had to be done. After work, he headed straight home where he rested and went about arranging, composing and working on his keyboard.

What a total shock, then, when he was diagnosed with his very malignant cancer. An experimental therapy suggested by a nurse seemed to be going nowhere when he realized that the music he loved made him get a grip on himself and began to turn him around.

Apparently, the only major mistake he made was to allow himself to eat his way into the ungodly weight of 270 pounds. A liability of itself, that much weight contributes heavily to diabetes, high blood pressure, heart disease and even some forms of cancer.

So Toti lived three months, then three more months, and three more until he finally discovered that his beloved music was holding the cancer cells at bay. No medicine or therapy had accomplished what simple music of his choosing was now doing very well.

"When I'm performing on stage, I'm painless!" he trumpets. "I think that if I am not a musician, I would have been dead by now because there is no healing. It is the music that is keeping me alive."

Believing God has a special reason for keeping him alive despite all odds, Toti has been transformed into an evangelist for health and for the healing of music. Recently, he spearheaded a fund-raising walk and concert for indigent cancer patients, under the program, "A Celebration for Life."

Although he does not know how and when this will unfold, Toti is convinced that God has plans for him to share a great deal more of his time and talent, comforting cancer victims and contributing the unique vehicle of music to their healing.

Down to a wispy 140 pounds nowadays and functioning on just the 40 percent of his stomach spared by the vicious gastro-intestinal tumor, Toti feels great and is determined to live his life to the full, all the while sharing it with cancer survivors and supporters.

"I feel so good these days," he bubbles forth. "I am more creative musically. I write and arrange songs faster than I ever did. I am also busy enjoying life and I thank God every day that I am still breathing."

In the same vein, the New Orleans Times-Picayune newspaper recently did an article on Toti's many benefits to premature babies as well as to patients suffering from Alzheimer's disease. Feel-good music, they call it.

That is all very interesting, especially when put in the light of entertainment, a process through which music slows or speeds the body rhythms. As we all know, our heart and breathing rhythms respond readily to various melodies, beats and lyrics.

Which brings us to the observation that feel-good music is a very personal thing unique to each individual, to one's tastes and to one's situation at any given time. Consequently, music which is feel-good for one person may be intolerable or even torture to another.

I often think of the survey which found "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" to be the greatest song overall of all time. Not a bad song. But the greatest? The lyrics are good; but not excellent. The melody is pleasant, but not particularly dynamic. The understated beat is, well, understated.

What astounds me is the many songs which excel in all three.

For instance, crossing categories to the religious side, Amazing Grace has lyrics which are so transcendent that people of all faiths embrace them with deep feeling.

The melody and rhythm are so haunting that musicians play it with bagpipes, piano, organ and every instrument imaginable. Fats Domino made a dynamic Christmas instrumental of it.

Amazing Grace certainly gets my feel-good vote as head and shoulders above and beyond Somewhere Over the Rainbow in lyrics, melody and rhythm. But so do His Eye Is On the Sparrow, How Great Thou Art, Precious Lord, I Believe, Glory Glory Alleluia, Blessed Assurance, Leaning on the Everlasting Arms, and scores more.

In other categories, there are beautiful, moving hymns such as America the Beautiful, Battle Hymn of the Republic, plus great romantic songs like Since I Met You Baby, Makes Me Want to Shout, My Prayer, When a Man Loves a Woman, and countless more.

Since "Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast, to soften rocks, or bend a knotted oak," as William Congreve penned about 1700, music calms our raw nerves, inspires us to high ideals, uplifts us and gives us feelings of joy and well-being. But, more than all these wonderful things, music heals us in body, mind, emotions and spirit.

Because our human nature has not and will not change, those words from 1700 are every bit as true now as they were then. Perhaps the only music which must be exempted from the healing category is dirty/gangsta rap which does not heal but destroys.

Music therapy has long been taught at every level in learning and medicine, mostly to unappreciative audiences. If elementary as well as university students fully understood the wonderful powers of music, their discipline would take on a whole new meaning.

Reflections on Life

by Father Jerome LeDoux, SVD

Scripture Says

By Ed Young

The Heavenly Father knows all about us

Could it be when Jesus was in the "Garden of Gethsemane" His thoughts were about you?

"You may not know me, but I know everything about you." Psalms 139:1

I know when you sit down and when you rise up. Even the very hair in your head are numbered.

For you were made in my image, for you are my offspring. I knew you even before you were conceived. I chose you when I planned creation; you were not a mistake. For all your days are written in my book. I determined the exact time of your birth and where you would live. Acts 17:26

You were fearfully and wonderfully made. Psalms 139:14. I knit you together in your mother's womb. Psalms 139:13.

My plan for your future has always been filled with hope. Because I love you with an everlasting love. Jer. 31:3.

Jesus died so that you and I could be reconciled. His death was the ultimate expression of His love for us.

Our Heavenly Father says: If you receive the gift of my son Jesus, you receive me and nothing will ever separate you from my love again. I John 2:29.

When Jesus was taken and arrested, He could have easily called for a legend of angels to set Him free. He chose not to.

The scouring and the Roman Cross awaited Him. He knew many would disregard His love and His reconcile life for them. But He remembers all of us.

Self-Authenticating Gospel

Most people think Christianity is thoroughly unscientific. Even those who teach theology in colleges and universities tell their students there is no proof for the existence of God. And of course, there is no proof that the Bible is the Word of God. These things must be taken by faith. Supporting faith through the use of evidence is all wrong.

Well, I think these professors are all wrong. They think faith is a leap in the dark. But it is really a leap into the light. Jesus was not unscientific. He used certain evidences to show people like us He was and is the Son of God. Listen to what Jesus Himself says, "The witness I have is greater than that of John; for the works which the Father has given me to accomplish, the very works that I do, bear witness of Me, that the Father has sent Me" (John 5:36). Jesus did not come on the scene and simply announce He was the Son of God and then tell people to believe in Him. Jesus came working miracles. He healed the sick, raised the dead, cast out demons. Even His enemies admitted this.

"The chief priests and the Pharisees convened a council, and were saying, 'What are we doing? For this man is performing many signs'" (John 11:47). Jesus approached people through His miracles which were the evidence He was and is God's Son.

"Believe Me that I am in the Father, and the Father in Me; otherwise believe on account of the works themselves" (John 14:11). So if you have an aversion to blind leaps of faith, you had better consider Jesus Christ. He does not want you to blindly follow Him. He gives you solid reasons to believe in Him.

Gwen Perrot of Cardinal Flowers

Cardinal Flowers

When words are not enough, flowers are in order, flowers from Cardinal that is.

Since 1952 Cardinal Flowers has been delighting customers with exceptional floral arrangements for every occasion. Cardinal Flowers is locally owned and operated by William and Shelly Brewer and is now open in Bay St. Louis. The new location is on 203-B N. 2nd Street and is managed by Gwen Perrot. Given is a native of Bay Saint Louis and is an AIFD Master Designer. Owner, William Brewer is the only accredited AIFD designer in South Mississippi.

Cardinal Flowers specializes in both traditional arrangements and very creative high style designs. They also offer a large variety of rose prices from cash and carry to boxed and designed, all deliverable.

Cardinal Flowers in Bay Saint Louis offers a flower "Happy Hour." Every day after 2:00 p.m. and on Saturdays, all loose cash and carry flowers are half price! What a wonderful way to brighten someone's day, maybe even your own.

Cardinal Flowers offers centerpieces in both fresh and silk as well as other custom silk designs.

Is there a wedding in your future? If so, inquire about Cardinal Flowers custom designed wedding packages.

If you are on a tight budget but don't want to compromise quality, Cardinal Flowers also offers a lovely cash and carry bridal package.

Cardinal Flowers is available for all life's special occasions and celebrations. For your next special event or perhaps just to say "I love you," contact Cardinal Flowers with two locations to serve you: In Bay Saint Louis call 467-9999, or in Gulfport call 800-748-9414.

Frankie Avalon, Fabian and Bobby Rydell

The Golden Boys bring Bandstand to Bay Magic

THE SEA COAST ECHO
Fifties heartthrobs Frankie Avalon, Fabian and Bobby Rydell perform their sock-hop hits and some of the most beloved music of the bandstand era in two performances at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis June 24th & 25th at 9 p.m. Tickets start at $19.95 are available at the Casino Magic Box Office, by calling 1-800-5-MAGIC-5 or through any Ticketmaster outlet.

The Golden Boys were three of the most popular teen idols and the late 50's and early 60's and have met with overwhelming concert success while touring together off and on again since 1985.

Frankie Avalon, 63, began his show biz career by playing the trumpet and wowing the audience at various Philadelphia talent shows. By the age of 12, he was a member of a local dance band which featured another future teen idol on drums -- Bobby Rydell. In 1957, the rise of "American Bandstand" inspired Avalon to try a solo singing career. He made waves with the hits, "Venus," "Bobby Sox to Stockings," and "De De Dinah." In the 60's Avalon turned to acting starring in several films with Annette Funicello that were inspired by the nationwide surfing craze -- "Beach Party," "Muscle Beach," "Beach Blanket Bingo," and many more. Perhaps his most memorable role came in 1978's "Grease" in which he played a teen angel and sang "Beauty School Dropout."

Another Philadelphia native, Fabian Forte, 61, was discovered sitting on his front steps at the age of 14. By the time he was 18 he had recorded dozens of hit singles including: "Turn Me Loose," "Tiger," and "I'm the Man." In 1959, he made his screen debut and has since had featured roles with John Wayne, James Stewart, Jack Palance, and George Segal. Never a disappointment to his fans, Fabian is still as good looking, charming and hard working as ever.

ing, charming and hard working as ever.

Bobby Rydell, 62, grew up in the same south Philly neighborhood as Avalon and Fabian. He began his career playing the drums at the age of five and was working night clubs by age seven. As a teenager he played with Frankie Avalon in a local dance band and went solo after seeing Avalon's success. Rydell's hits include: "Volare," "Wild One," and "Kissin' Time." In 1963, he appeared in the screen version of the hit Broadway musical "Bye, Bye, Birdie" opposite Ann Margaret.

Today the trio find the most success in their family lives and through touring together. Baby Boomers still flock to their concerts in droves screaming, "Frankie you're the best!" and "I love you Fabian!" Don't miss your chance to see The Golden Boys live in concert at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis on June 24th and 25th!

Must be at least 21 to attend.

Camp Stanislaus wants you!

Camp Stanislaus is sponsoring its fourth annual program for day campers. After experiencing overwhelming success as an overnight camp for 76 years, and recognizing the growth of the coast area, St. Stanislaus is pleased to offer a program for the local community. "As the Mississippi Gulf Coast continues to grow, we want to provide an active, fun and educational opportunity for the young men on the coast," according to Mr. Michael Reso, Director of Camp Stanislaus.

Camp Stanislaus is a Catholic, day and overnight summer camp for boys ages 8 to 15. Day campers participate in all of the activities offered at camp including water-skiing, sailing, horseback riding, archery, rifles, crafts, soccer, basketball, baseball, volleyball, daily character talks, and Ship Island trips. Everyday is packed with fun activities for the boys. Day campers arrive at 7:45 a.m. and are picked up at 6:15 p.m. Breakfast and lunch are served to the boys, and campers receive t-shirts and spending money. No additional spending money is needed.

There are many benefits a young man who attends a summer camp. They develop an appreciation and respect for themselves, for others, and the environment. In addition, through the participation of a summer camp program, campers experience a growth in self-confidence, self-esteem, and overall character formation. As a result, most of our day campers are returning campers, and campers often become counselors when they are sixteen. This continues the developmental benefits of a camp experience for a young man at Camp Stanislaus.

There are several options for parents to choose when selecting a session to attend. Session Length Dates & Rates

Session 1 (3 weeks) June 13 - July 1 $890

Session 2 (3 Weeks) July 4 - July 22 $890

Session 3 (6 Weeks) June 13 - July 22 $1,425

Mini-camp 1 (1 Week) June 13 - 17 $330

Mini-camp 2 (1 Week) July 4 - July 8 $330

Camp Stanislaus has operated since 1928 by the Brothers of the Sacred Heart in Bay St. Louis as a traditional, Catholic camp. The mission of Camp Stanislaus is to provide campers and counselors a safe and enjoyable recreational and learning experience in the Catholic tradition and according to the charism of the Brothers of the Sacred Heart.

Family Best Bets

Thursday

9 p.m. and TBS

Movie: While You Were Sleeping

A wistful Chicago subway employee falls for a man she knows only from afar. Fate intervenes when the man is mugged and the young woman saves him from the subway tracks. He ends up in a coma, and when his family arrives at the hospital, they assume the two are romantically involved. Sandra Bullock, Bill Pullman and Peter Gallagher star in this 1995 comedy.

Friday

5:45 p.m. on AMC

Movie: Dragonlayer

Peter MacNicol earned praise for his work in this impressively somber 1981 fantasy, in which he plays Galerii, the bumbling apprentice of a deceased sorcerer (Ralph Richardson) who finds himself pressed into service as an unlikely hero after a gigantic dragon begins menacing a kingdom. Caitlin Clarke stars as Valerian, a woman who pretends to be male to avoid becoming a sacrificial maiden.

Saturday

9:10 a.m. on TBS

Movie: Three Men and a Little Lady

This 1990 sequel to "Three Men and a Cradle" reunites Jack, Peter and Michael (Ted Danson, Tom Selleck, Steve Guttenberg), who are raising Jack and Sylvia's (Nancy Travis) daughter, Mary. (Robin Weisman). However, Sylvia decides to move to England to wed her new boyfriend, and she's taking Mary with her. Horrified by the thought of long-distance parenting, the three men set out to stop the nuptials.

12:45 p.m. on AMC

Movie: She Wore a Yellow Ribbon

One of the all-time great Westerns, director John Ford's 1949 saga stars one of his most frequent collaborators — John Wayne — as an about-to-retire Cavalry officer whose final mission means great peril for him and those he must protect from an Indian attack. Many of his charges are women, represented principally by Joanne Dru and Mildred Natwick, genre staples John Agar, Ben Johnson and Harry Carey Jr. co-star.

In Focus

It's been on and off the ABC schedule, but the sitcom "Complete Savages" completes its season Friday, June 17, with a guest appearance by executive producer Mel Gibson.

He reprises his earlier role as a police officer, popping up in a video about safety in and around hot tubs. It figures into a plot that finds Nick and Jimmy (Keith Carradine, Vincent Ventresca) mulling how to use the money left them by a deceased friend. They settle on a hot tub...it Nick's eventual regret, thanks to his sons.

TV Trivia

John Larroquette ("The 10th King") was the uncredited narrator of the original "Texas Chainsaw Massacre" in 1974.

Bill Bixby ("Barbary Coast") was an amateur illusionist who performed all of his own tricks for the 1973-74 detective series "The Magician."

W.C. Fields ("Poppy") was born William Claude Dukerfield. He went by many pseudonyms, including Primrose Mago.

Richard Gere ("Red Corner") entered the University of Massachusetts in 1967 on a gymnastics scholarship. He studied philosophy and drama.

Peter Fonda ("Ulee's Gold") made his film debut in 1968 as the romantic lead in the teen romance "Tammy and the Doctor."

Sunday Best Bets

12 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

NASCAR Racing

The unique triangle-shaped layout of Pennsylvania's Pocono Raceway, featuring three different corner lengths and bankings plus a long front straightaway, always makes for an interesting afternoon of NASCAR action. It was certainly that last year for Jimmie Johnson, who shrugged off what could have been a colossal error by a pit road flagman and then held off Jeremy Mayfield to win the Pocono 500, a title he defends today.

6 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

Malcolm in the Middle

Neighbor girl Jessica (guest star Hayden Panettiere) suggests Lois (Jane Kaczmarek) take Malcolm and Reese (Frankie Muniz, Justin Berfield) to see the musical "Mamma Mia!" Lois thinks it's a great idea; they don't. Hal (Bryan Cranston), tired of competing with a neighbor's lavish Christmas display, decides to decorate the house for a different holiday in "Pearl Harbor."

7 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

The Simpsons

Menopause has Marge's sister Selma craving a child to keep her company in her old age. At Lisa's suggestion, she applies to adopt a baby from China. Because the government won't let singles adopt, she persuades Homer to pose as her husband. When they get caught, a "Trojan horse"-style maneuver at the orphanage and some diplomatic action on Lisa's part save the day in "Goo Goo Gai Pan." Voices include Julie Kavner, Yeardley Smith and Dan Castellaneta.

7 p.m. on 4-CBS

Cold Case

The legendary 1968 concert performed by country-music icon Johnny Cash at Folsom Prison provides the backdrop for "The House." The script poses that on the night the show was beamed to prisons across the country, an inmate was killed at a facility near Philadelphia. When bones allegedly belonging to the victim are found in the present day, Lilly (Kathryn Morris) investigates. Roxanne Hart ("Chicago Hope") guest stars.

8 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

Family Guy

Peter thinks someone's in trouble when he hears screams from inside Cleveland and Loretta's house, and he rushes over to help. What he finds is Loretta engaged in intimate activity ... with Quagmire. After Peter spills the beans to Cleveland, things fall apart quickly in the new episode "The Cleveland-Loretta Quagmire." Wrestler Macho Man Randy Savage voices a cartoon version of himself.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS

Movie: Raising Wrayton

Two people unable to see eye to eye must work together as the guardians of a youngster in this 2004 romantic comedy. Poppy Montgomery and Thomas Gibson ("Dharma & Greg") play the godparents who get trial-run custody of 9-year-old Wrayton (Jeremy Bergman), with others willing to take him in if things don't work out. Emmy winner Doris

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order: Criminal Intent

Goren and Eames (Vincent D'Onofrio, Kathryn Erbe) go after a wily thief (guest star David Harbour) whom they suspect of killing an antiques appraiser in "Silver Lining." He manages to stay one step ahead of them, taunting them all the way, as the squad links him to a long list of robberies. Without the booty, however, it will be difficult to make any charges stick.

8:30 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

American Dad

In the new episode "Homeland Insecurity," Francine feels isolated because of Stan's obsession with security and throws a block party so they can get to know the neighbors. The plan backfires when some of those neighbors tickle Stan's suspicions. At his father's urging, Steve joins a youth group, a move that also has an unfortunate outcome. Matthew Lillard, Gina Gershon, Richard Kind and Ron Livingston provide guest voices.

Allison (Patricia Arquette) learns that Joe (Jake Weber) has scheduled a biopsy behind her back. Frustrated, she consults fellow psychic Catherine (guest star Margo Martindale), who tells her Joe is fine, but a crisis involving a third party is on the horizon. When Allison has a vision of Joe with another woman, she fears the worst. Catherine also helps her handle some tough questions on the witness stand in "Ir Sickness and Adultery."

Trading Spouses: Meet Your New Mommy

In Part 1 of "Gates/Loupe," Diana, a Cajun mom who wrangles snakes and pilots a tour boat through alligator-filled swamps, trades families with Barbara, an uptight vegan who keeps a tight rein on her husband and two children. While Barbara recoils at the meat-intensive diet of her new clan, Diana tries to loosen up her salad-eating charges with such unheard-of ideas as pie for breakfast.

7 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

My Wife and Kids
In the conclusion of "Fantasy Camp," scheduling problems threaten to cancel Michael's (Damon Wayans) long-awaited opportunity to shoot hoops with Michael Jordan. He's not going to let that happen if he can help it. Time for some thinking outside the box. S.I.N.G.E.R. Wayne Newton, Rev. Al Sharpton and Jordan make guest appearances.

7 p.m. on FAM

Movie: Batman Returns
Holy sequel, Batman! Michael Keaton returns to the batcave as the Caped Crusader in this 1992 Tim Burton film. This time, the Dark Knight must save Gotham City from being taken over by three villains: the maniacal Penguin (Danny DeVito), the seductive Catwoman (Michelle Pfeiffer) and the scheming Max Shreck (Christopher Walken). Michael Gough also stars.

8 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

House
In "Maternity," three newborns develop a mysterious illness that soon spreads to all the babies in the maternity ward except one. After trying two drugs — and losing one of the little patients — House (Hugh Laurie) and his team race the clock to diagnose the disease before it claims more lives. One problem they face is that with all the possibilities, they need to draw lots of blood for tests — and newborns don't have much.

Mariska Hargitay

9 p.m. on 8-NBC

Law & Order: Special Victims Unit
In "Quarry," the body of a 7-year-old boy who disappeared in 1980 is found. The accused in that case (guest star John Savage), who was never convicted, is now on death row for another kidnapping and murder, and Benson and Cragen (Mariska Hargitay, Danny Fogle) suspect he's just trying to buy some time by getting the older case reopened.

9 p.m. on 18-PBS

Independent Lens
In the drama "Brother to Brother," a young black artist (Anthony Mackie, "Sucker Free City"), kicked out of his home because he's gay, meets elderly writer Bruce Nugent, who was a key figure in the Harlem Renaissance. Through flashbacks, he gains insight and inspiration from Bruce's story and those of other pioneering gay black people in the arts. Roger Robinson and Duane Boutte play Bruce at different ages; Aunjanue Ellis also stars.

That '70s Show
In "On With the Show," Jackie (Mila Kunis) gets her own public-access TV show, but freezes when the camera comes on. Dejected, she gets a pep talk from Eric (Topher Grace). Foz (Wilmer Valderrama) tells Hyde (Lenny Musterson) that Jackie wants to get back with him, but she sends a different signal. Eric throws out his comic books after befriending a 30-something comic-book enthusiast with no life and fearing he'll end up the same way.

7 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC
Supernanny
In "Bailey Family," Jo Frost helps a working couple — he's a policeman, she's a teacher — with a 6-year-old daughter and a 2-year-old son. The boy is a textbook case of the "terrible twos," sweet one minute and throwing a tantrum the next. The girl has mood swings befitting a teenager and refuses to sleep in her own bed. Dad may be a cop, but Frost needs to teach these parents a thing or two about laying down the law at home.

The Inside

A federal prosecutor and former co-worker of Paul's (Jay Harrington) is murdered in the new episode "Old Wounds." The VCU team suspects a serial killer who meets women through a kinky sex club. One of the establishment's patrons is a wealthy playboy to whom Rebecca (Rachel Nichols) feels drawn. Peter Coyote, Katie Finnaner and Adam Baldwin also star.

Craig Gass) who has displaced him as the company's lunchtime comedian with his funny impersonations. To get him out of the way, Doug sends him on a run to a fake address, and the guy gets beaten up while trying to find it. Carrie (Leah Remini) is having work problems of her own when her assistant quits in "Entertainment Weekly."

Movie: The Wedding Singer

A romantically unlucky wedding singer (Adam Sandler) loses his girlfriend because he's in a dead-end job that he happens to love, causing his enthusiasm for his work to decline. When he shows kindness to a compassionate waitress (Drew Barrymore), he lures her away from her overbearing boyfriend. Billy Idol makes a cameo appearance as himself in this 1998 comedy, a must-see for anyone who loves, or is still stuck in, the '80s.

7 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

8 Simple Rules

C.J. (David Spade) meets his biological father (guest star Danny Woodburn, "Seinfeld"), a motivational speaker and author, in "C.J.'s Real Dad." While C.J. is elated at the reunion, Jim (James Garner) suspects the man might be using it to boost sales of his new book. Singer Ruben Studdard ("American Idol") makes a cameo appearance.

7 p.m. and TNT
Into the West

Jacob (Matthew Settle) has several brushes with death in the new episode "Migration." After a spell at home in Virginia, he heads west again, this time with brother Jethro (Skeet Ulrich) and three cousins (Keri Russell, Jessica Capshaw, Emily Holmes). Jacob is wounded in an attack by the Cheyenne and separated from Thunder Heart Woman (Tonantzin Carmelo) and their children, who don't recognize him when he returns years later.

7:30 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Complete Savages

A friend of Nick and Jimmy's (Keith Carradine, Vincent Ventresca) leaves them a sum of money, stipulating that it must be used for fun. They decide to buy a hot tub, and Nick lays down strict rules for the boys' use of it — which they ignore. S a m (Andrew Eiden) can't decide whether to give Angela (Autumn Reeser) a store-bought gift or one he made himself. Mel

Gibson guest stars in the season finale, "The Complete Savages in ... Hot Water."

8 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Hope & Faith

Hope (Faith Ford) worries about maintaining her image in "Queer as Hope." First, Justin and Hayley (Paulie Litt, Macey Cruthird) get into trouble at school, making Hope fear others will consider her a bad parent. Then Faith (Kelly Ripa) tries to secure a new apartment by claiming she and Hope are gay — which eventually gets Hope identified as such in a newspaper.

Claude and

Ramona

(Sara Rue, Sherri Shepherd) play spy to find out if Kipp (Zachary Levi) is using company funds to pay for his laser eye surgery. Lydia (Andrea Parker) learns a secret about Jeb's (Patrick Warburton) choice of a honeymoon hotel. Will (Eric Roberts) trains for the New York City Marathon with a little help from Owen and Carl (Andy Dick, Will Sasso) in "We're Bad People."

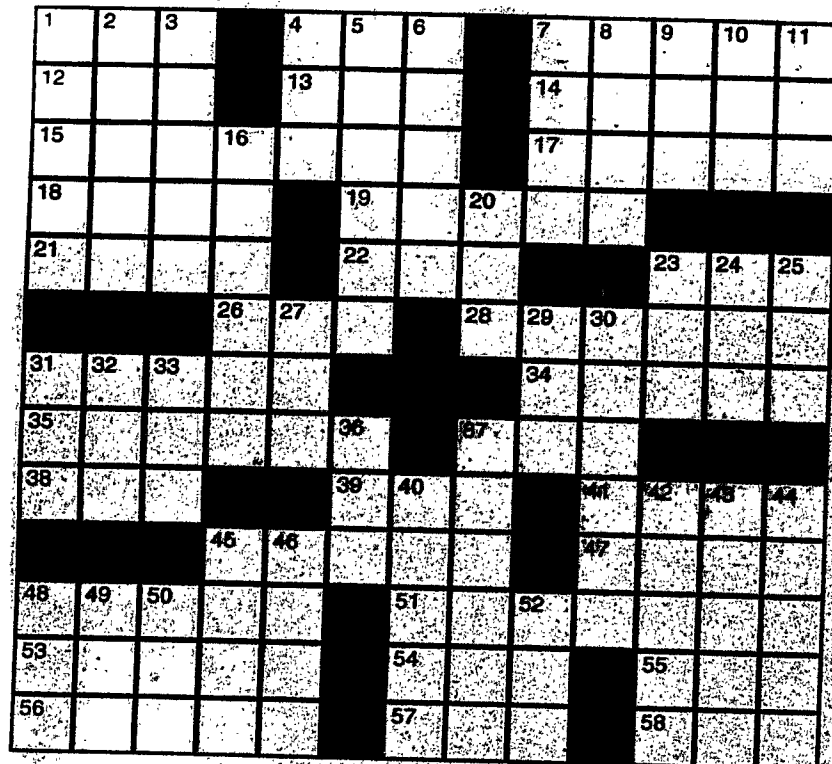

9 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order: Trial by Jury

Kibre (Bebe Neuwirth) has a tough one on her hands in "Pattern of Conduct" — a basketball star (guest star Damaine Radcliff) accused of killing his girlfriend. Obstacles include his many fans, his wife (guest star Sherri Saum) and even the grand jurors, who are wowed by his celebrity. She has a long list of potential witnesses — women claiming he assaulted in the past — but all are reluctant to testify.

In Focus

If you've been hoping to know all there is to know about insects, Russel Klempaste is your man, which the entomologist proves in the launch of his Animal Planet series "Buggin' With Russ" Wednesday, June 15.

Klempaste travels the world to observe the habits of various creatures, explaining them by linking them to precisely or mildly similar human behavior. For instance, he allows himself to be buried for a day in order to sample what the cocoon nymph experiences over a 17-year period.

In sort of an "American Idol" of the opera world, six amateurs including Denise Lee and Jane Gilchrist compete for two performance slots with the English National Opera in the new "Great Performances" offering, "Operafest," Monday, June 18, on PBS.

The initial casting call leads to regional auditions that whittle the field down to the six finalists, who receive plenty of coaching, with the prospect of joining world-renowned talents in Verdi's "Rigoletto."

Saturday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC
Movie: Lilo & Stitch
A small but destructive alien escapes from custody and lands on Earth — Hawaii, to be exact — where he poses as a dog. He's adopted from the pound by Lilo, a rambunctious orphan girl, who names him Stitch. As he tries to stay one step ahead of the extraterrestrial law, his rowdy ways threaten to break up the only family Lilo has left. David Ogden Stiers, Tia Carrere, and Chris Sanders lead the voice cast in this charming, animated 2002 Disney movie.

7 p.m. on 4-CBS
NCIS
Gibbs (Mark Harmon) and his colleagues are called upon to find a former Navy SEAL (guest star Tim Allen) who has escaped from prison. He was convicted of killing his wife but has maintained his innocence. In fact, the reason he escaped is to get back at the real killer. Sasha Alexander, Michael Weatherly and David McCallum also star in "UnSEALed."

8 p.m. and HALL
Movie: Fielder's Choice
No, this isn't a baseball movie, although that would be a nice break from the done-to-death plot of this new drama. Career-crazed single learns what really matters in life after becoming the reluctant guardian of one or more orphaned kids. For ad man Phillip Fielder (Chad Lowe), it's his 8-year-old nephew, left in his care by the death of his sister. And as the title suggests, he has a big decision to make about his life. Marlin Hinkle also stars.

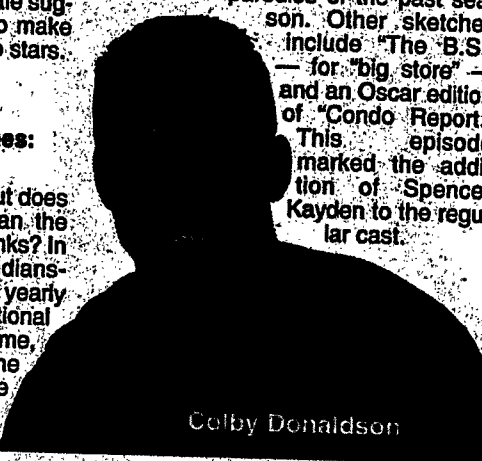

8 p.m. on HBO
Ray Romano & Kevin James: Making the Cut
Everybody loves Raymond, but does that include the PGA? And can the King of Queens be king of the links? In this new special, the comedians-turned-sitcom stars pay their yearly visit to golf's Pebble Beach National Pro-Am tournament, but this time, they actually try to get into the game. The program follows the two as they match their driving and putting skills with the sports' best. They may not make the cut, but they'll make you laugh trying.

10 p.m. on 25-FOX

Mad TV

"Survivor" runner-up Colby Donaldson and host Jeff Probst (guest starring as themselves) show up on the island of "Lost" in one of the sketch comedy show's better parodies of the past season. Other sketches include "The B.S." for "big store" and an Oscar edition of "Condo Report." This episode marked the addition of Spencer Kayden to the regular cast.
